Ann Ramsey is a musically-trained, Delaware-based singer-songwriter who specializes in acoustic, folk and traditional music in the Americana and Anglo-Celtic genres. She has a background in history and enjoys setting her many story-songs in unusual times and places. Ann is an accomplished fingerstyle guitar player, and is often credited for her uniquely atmospheric, “raw folk” sound, and her musically adventurous approach to songwriting.

She’s active in the Philadelphia Area Songwriters Alliance (PASAmusic.org), and the Philadelphia Folksong Society (PFS.org). She joined the PFS Musical Artists Cooperative (MAC) in 2025 and played a solo set at that year’s Philadelphia Folk Festival. She’s listed on the artist roster of the Delaware Division of the Arts, from which she was awarded Artist Opportunity grants for FY 2023 & 2025. Her LP, Gallowglass, debuted 10/1/25 and made the top 40 on October’s folk DJ radio charts.

"Ann Ramsey offers a rare combination of musical, vocal and songwriting delight. Her guitar playing and vocal clarity work together in a way that sweetly carry the evocative lyrics of her originals and timeless covers, captivating the listener and leaving us eager for more. Ann is as good a performer -- and as nice a person -- as they come."
