LOTS OF GOOD MEN FANTASY DATING CARD GAME – A NEW CARD GAME FOR WOMEN

Memphis, Tenn. — Lots of Good Men is an imaginative and playful matchmaking card game designed for women of all ages. It serves as an effective icebreaker, conversation starter, and storytelling experience, all intended to entertain. Lots of Good Men is ideally played with 4–8 players but can also be enjoyed solo. It is perfect for bridal showers, ladies’ nights out, and other fun social gatherings.

Karen Reed developed Lots of Good Men in 2009 after recognizing the deep desire among women to feel confident, empowered, and whimsical. Lots of Good Men is to women what fantasy football is to men. In this game, all players embark on dates with prospective suitors while waiting for “Mr. Right.” The goal is to meet a mate and accept a marriage proposal. Unlike passively watching a romantic comedy or reading a romance novel, each player becomes the star of her own love story.

During the game, each player goes on dates by drawing cards from six unique decks: First Look, Career, First Date, Positive Character Trait, Negative (Challenging) Character Trait, and Random Facts.

Players can either keep the cards they draw to continue getting to know their date or reject him and return him to the deck to meet someone new. At the game’s finale, each engaged player reveals her new fiancé to the group, sparking laughter, surprises, and plenty of memorable moments. With over one million possible unique suitor combinations, the fun is in the cards—making it exciting to discover who each player will end up with and how each story unfolds!
