LOTS OF GOOD MEN FANTASY DATING CARD GAME – A NEW CARD GAME FOR WOMEN

Memphis, Tenn. — Lots of Good Men is an imaginative playful card game for women of all ages. The game is an effective icebreaker and conversation starter and is intended to entertain. Lots of Good Men is ideally played with 4-8 players but can be played with only one person. Lots of Good Men is fitting for bridal showers, girls' night out and many other settings where fun games are played.

Karen Reed developed Lots of Good Men 12 years ago after realizing the great desire that women have, to feel confident, to feel empowered and to feel whimsical. Lots of Good Men is to women what fantasy football is to men. All players go on Fantasy dates. Players are courted by prospective suitors, while awaiting Mr. Right. The object of the game is to meet a mate and accept a marriage proposal. Players are not just watching the romantic comedy, the Hallmark channel or reading the romance novel ... She is the star.

Each player will go on fantasy dates by drawing cards from the six card decks: First Look, Career, First Date, Positive Character Trait, Negative Character Trait, and Random Facts. The player can keep the card that she draws and continue to get to know her date by continuing to draw from the decks or reject her date and return him to the deck and continue to date other suitors. At the finale, each player will have the opportunity to introduce her new fiancé to the other players. With over one million possible unique suitors, the fun is in the cards. It can be quite interesting to find out what suitors will be selected.
