Escaping and running away from difficulties always seems more enticing than staying and fighting to conquer and win. Fireproof is a powerful movie with the stick with it tenacity. Our world is tarnished with broken relationships in marriage. The adversary has made sure every possible type of temptation and way of escape is available. If you haven't seen Fireproof, do whatever you can to see it. It speaks really to every area of relationships, married or not. You'll be blessed, edified and encouraged.
