Based on Charles Sheldon's novel, "In His Steps, What Would Jesus Do?" this movie entitled In His Steps, the First Church of Raymond is challenged for a full year to not make any decision before first asking what Jesus would do. It came about by a homeless man, Jack Manning, who appears in the opening scenes entering their city looking for work and is turned away by all including the pastor of the church who after hearing his brushes him off and closes the door. The story line is great as it address the viewer, no matter their status, as to the motive and intent of their heart and if they are really living their lives for Jesus Christ or not.
