Based on the true-life story of comedian Ray Romano's brother Rich, The Investigator highlights police detective Sergeant James Buanacore who after a forced retirement, faces depression, the miscarriage of their child and doubts about his Christian faith. Accepting a part time job at a Christian school as criminal justice teacher and baseball coach, he uses his cop like approach to deal with his rebellious students but with continual inner conflicts he almost quits but is challenged by his students to do the biggest investigation he's ever done. A good watch.
