What a powerful movie! Not a Fan is a must see and I would suggest it to be a terrific evangelistic gift, hands down. The story line is a man who's a nominal Christian, a cutthroat executive and one who has the world by the tail with all the wealth and prestige at his fingertips. A man's heart is deceitful and wicked above all things as the book of Jeremiah says and if one continually pushes the limits with God, He'll at times allow things to happen to get a wakeup call going on in your life. That's what happens to Eric Nelson. His near death heart attack radically changes his life to become not just a fan of Jesus, but a true follower.
