Many movies have been made on the life of Saul, otherwise known as Paul the Apostle. Saul- Journey to Damascus is more recent, filmed in 2014. It depicts the revolutionary life of the man who came to write the majority of the New Testament. Revealing his undaunted persecution of the new believers in Jesus the Messiah, Saul has a face to face encounter with the same one he is persecuting and his life is instantly transformed. With added fiction, this film reveals the true persecution of the early church five years after Jesus' ascension into heaven, what they faced and how they stood firm in their belief of redemption. Saul, now Paul, begins to experience what was prophesied over him by Ananias about the great things he must suffer himself for the name of Jesus. A very good movie.
