Filmed in South Africa, Faith Like Potatoes is based on the true story of a farmer, Angus Buchan, who after moving his family, suffers a series of overwhelming losses. Convicted of his need to be born again, he embarks on a walk of faith, putting into practice and exercising his gift of an evangelist. When you walk out in your call and election in life, it's amazing the doors God opens for you and how your faith grows in your heart - unseen by the natural eye.
