

Letter

PRACTICE

aleph

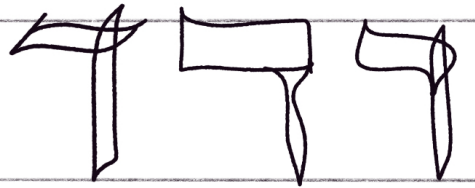

bet

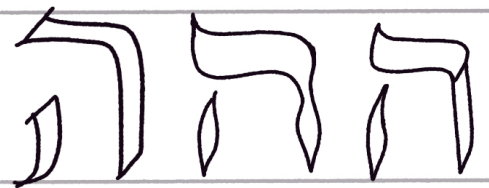

gimel

daleth

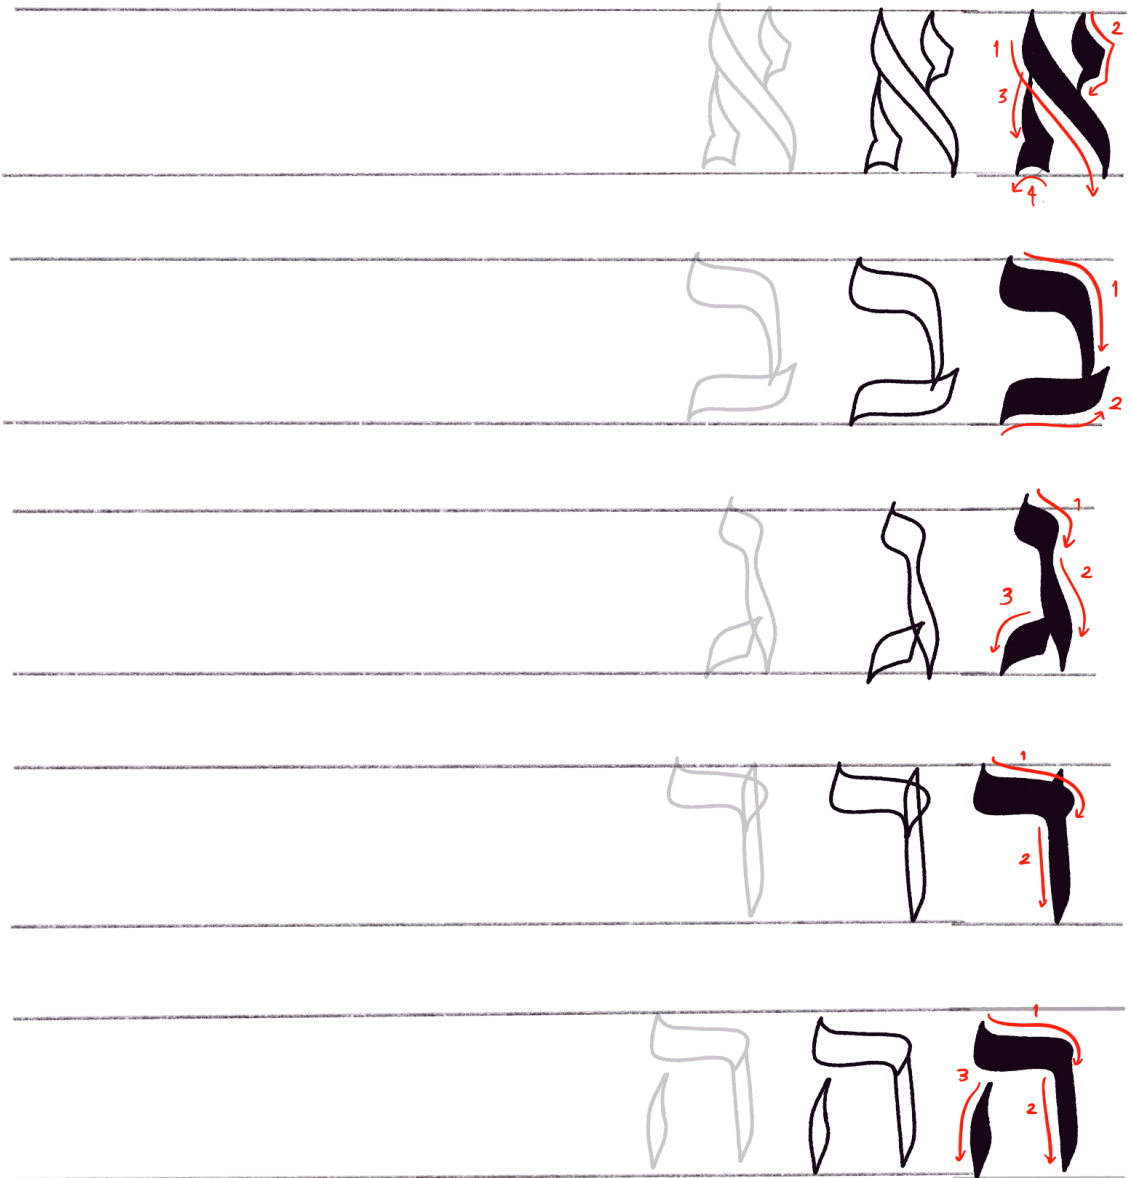

hey

Sephardic

PRACTICE

This script originated in Spain during Medieval times . It is written at about a 60 degree angle and nib width height of 3.5

Ashkenazic

PRACTICE

This script, originating in Medieval Germany, is calligraphed at about 3 nib widths high, using a 90 degree angle for the top. Originally it was written with a quill.

Letter PRACTICE

This hand is called Shechina. It is Inspired by the divine feminine. Created at a variety of nib widths depending on preference, using an angle of approx 45 degrees.

