

GSH Tech Agent continues rapid growth in 2021

The International Sales Company GSH Tech Agent, with offices in Paris and Copenhagen, is continuing its strong growth phase in 2021 as they hire a new Customer Success Manager.

By the closing of the year 2020, GSH Tech Agent has signed more than 10 new, prominent technology companies, all looking to grow their revenue in international markets. It is therefore fitting for Michelle Dahl to initiate her role as the company's new Customer Success Manager, on the first official working day of 2021.

"Having lived in different parts of the world, I've had the opportunity to experience firsthand just how crucial a role technology can play in solving global challenges." Michelle says, adding: "From eradicating diseases and reducing digital inequality with AI to cutting greenhouse-gas emissions and creating smart cities through IoT, the world depends on innovative technological solutions. Entering a new market, however, includes a great number of cultural and institutional barriers to which disruptive tech companies need ambitious individuals with an international network and mindset. I want to be part of such a group of individuals, and this is my number one reason for joining GSH Tech Agent"

Michelle is joining GSH Tech Agent from Adent Health, a Danish Health Tech company, where she assisted the company in international business development from their Copenhagen Office. Prior to that, she Co-Founded and acted as the CMO for Hello Software, an international software house providing B2B digital solutions to companies interested in improving their internal onboarding processes.

Managing Director, Anne Høyer, adds:

"We are very pleased to get Michelle onboard as our Customer Success Manager. Her knowledge and experience is perfect for the clients of GSH Tech Agent and her mentality has already proved to be a great fit for the GSH Tech Agent team. I am certain that she will bring the clients in our growing portfolios, the handholding and success that we have been known to deliver."

Michelle will be based in the Copenhagen Office, all questions and enquires can be direct to her on: michelle.dahl@gshtechagent.com
