Reinforcement Education

Reinforcement Education is a concept of every grade (student) helping the grade under him or her. Using the “each one teach one” model, this method of Village Support is key to helping boost academic excellence and prevent students from dropping out later.

Creating agreements between 12-20 blocks to help reinforce education is what we call Block Universities. This mirrors a traditional university campus where all academics does not occur in one location. The second benefit of 12-20 blocks agreeing to host a Block University is the economic revenue it brings to the local area.
