Comfort Craft Program

VOLUNTEER INTEREST

The mission of Hopewell House is to provide the most compassionate and innovative care to those at the end of life, in a home-like setting – to shape and share what it means to “live well in the presence of death.”

Thank you for your interest in volunteering for the Friends of Hopewell House Comfort Craft Program. We create and donate quilts, knitted and crocheted blankets, shawls, hats, and slippers. These handmade gifts will warm and comfort not only patients, but families and caregivers as well. We hope by participating in the program, you will discover and pass along, through your hands and heart, the peace and understanding that surrounds the end-of-life process.

To get started, complete this interest form, save, and attach the file and return to Julie MacKenzie at: communications.craft@fhhpdx.org. Or, if you prefer, print, complete and mail the form to Julie MacKenzie c/o Friends of Hopewell House, 6164 SW Capitol Highway, Portland, OR 97239.

Once you have submitted your interest form, crafters will receive an email with the Guidelines and instructions for completing projects, including sizes, suggested patterns, yarns/fabrics, and delivery information. For other volunteer positions, your interest will be acknowledged, and a follow-up contact scheduled.
