SUMMARY: RATING THE TOP STARS AND BIGGEST FEUDS	85

INTRODUCTION

For much of the 1970s, the father and son team of George & Gil Culkin were the local promoters for Leroy McGuirk in Mississippi. McGuirk's territory had grown substantially in size over the years. It was originally concentrated in Oklahoma and parts of Arkansas and Missouri, but by the early 1970s had expanded into Louisiana and Mississippi and a handful of towns in Texas. The Culkins ran several different towns in Mississippi, with regular shows in Greenville, Greenwood, Jackson, Natchez and Vicksburg and spot shows throughout the state.

According to Gil's book The Mississippi Wrestling Territory, McGuirk reduced the schedule of shows in Mississippi beginning in 1976. Whereas the Culkins had been running at least four shows a week, that number started to decrease gradually. In addition, the booking fees (which were on a percentage basis) that the Culkins had to send to McGuirk were slowly creeping upwards. The Culkins may also have been paying a flat fee to cover a portion of television production & distribution.

At the same time, Lee Fields, promoter of Gulf Coast Championship Wrestling, was looking to get out of the wrestling business. Gulf Coast ran cards in the Florida panhandle, the southern half of Alabama and the southeastern quadrant of Mississippi. Fields wound up selling to his cousin Ron Fuller, but Ron was not interested in the Mississippi towns. George & Gil agreed to "buy" the Mississippi towns formerly run by Gulf Coast (including Gulfport/Biloxi, Hattiesburg and Meridian). By combining these towns with the ones they had already been promoting, there was enough to start their own full-time territory.

The Culkins cut ties with Leroy McGuirk in September 1977. They had already worked out a deal with Fritz Von Erich for Fritz to send tapes of his TV show to be used in the Mississippi markets during the transition. These featured localized promos from some of Fritz' crew, and also some interviews were inserted using the crew of wrestlers that was going to work for the new promotion, which was named ICW (International Championship Wrestling). The first known house show for ICW was October 17th, 1977 in Gulfport. The Culkins hired the Great Mephisto (Frankie Cain) to be their booker and the roster filled out in November and December with the additions of Ernie Ladd, Grizzly Smith and Luke Brown, "The Alaskan" Mike York, Pretty Boy (aka Ripper) Collins, Tom Shaft and a 16-year old rookie by the name of Terry Gordy (spelled Gordie early on). By the end of 1977 the territory was in full swing, with cards at least five nights a week and more than one card on some nights.

They began taping their own television program in Greenwood shortly after the split was finalized. At first, they taped two weeks' worth of shows every other week at the television studio in Greenwood. After some trial and error and bumps along the way, they decided to tape TV weekly every Friday night in Greenwood at their regular venue, the Sportatorium. Then, immediately afterwards, the production crew and the wrestlers would go to the TV studio to film local promos, which were inserted into dubbed copies of the show they had just filmed. These dubbed copies were then sent via overnight bus to the TV stations in all the towns in the territory for airing that weekend.

The territory was originally named International Championship Wrestling, or ICW for short. In late October 1978, they changed their name to AWA Championship Wrestling.

This Almanac is going to look at the Culkin territory for all of its' two-year existence. Each chapter represents a three-month period of time (with the first chapter covering the last 10 weeks of 1977 and the last chapter covering a 6-week period of time in July-August 1979). Three charts are presented at the beginning of each chapter: a SPOT Ratings chart, a FEUD Scores chart and a "booking sheet" of all known house shows.

The SPOT (Statistical Position Over Time) Ratings are a numeric representation of a wrestlers' average position (or spot) on the cards. A wrestler that is frequently advertised in main events will have a higher SPOT Rating than someone who typically competes in preliminary bouts early on the cards. A SPOT Rating is a number between .00 and 1.00

- A wrestler with a SPOT Rating below .40 is a Preliminary wrestler
- A wrestler with a SPOT Rating between .40 and .60 is a Mid-Carder
- A wrestler with a SPOT Rating between .60 and .80 is an Upper Mid-Carder
- A wrestler with a SPOT Rating above .80 is a Main Eventer

The SPOT Ratings charts are also color-coded to indicate which wrestlers competed as babyfaces (shaded in blue) and which competed as heels (shaded in orange), and on some occasions, shows them "turn" from one side to the other. Only full-time wrestlers in the territory are listed in the SPOT Ratings; these are loosely defined as wrestlers who are booked on at least a couple of shows per week for more than a couple of weeks.

The FEUD (Frequent Encounters Using Data) Scores measure the “intensity” of a feud, or series of matches between two specific wrestlers or teams. It is based on both the number of times a match occurs and the breadth of when those matches occur. FEUD Scores are whole integers, and only matches with a FEUD Score of 15 or above is listed in the chart.

- A FEUD Score between 15 and 24 means the match happened at least a few times in a short period of time, but likely was not a “feud” built up via angles or interviews or previous matches
- A FEUD Score between 25 and 39 is generally indicative of a “feud”; i.e. a series of matches between two wrestlers (or two teams of wrestlers) that is happening in multiple cities over a short period of time
- A FEUD Score above 40 generally signifies a “major feud”; the match is happening around the horn, and in many cases it’s a series of matches in some or all of those towns with escalating stipulations as the feud progresses

These statistics should be interpreted more as general guidelines to get a feel for a wrestlers’ spot in the promotion (and how that may change over time). Because most territories operated on a weekly cycle (with a weekly TV show and the major towns being run every week), the week-to-week changes in a SPOT Rating are worth noting, but you really want to look at it over a longer period of time to see where the wrestler was positioned. Also, not every match that appears on the FEUD chart was a “feud” per se; but if it does appear on the chart for several weeks and the FEUD Score steadily increases, hits a peak, and then decreases, it is reasonable to consider it a “feud”.

After these two charts, the “booking sheet” shows all known house shows in the territory for the quarter. Then we list the full advertised lineups for these house shows. All of these records come from my own personal research unless otherwise indicated (which is infrequent). Where known, match stipulations (title matches, gimmick matches, etc.) are listed. In some cases where the advertised card was not available, I used results to re-construct the advertised card. Some of the cards also featured preliminary matches involving wrestlers who appeared in a tag team match later in the card. These were sometimes referred to as captain’s matches. These matches are generally not listed in the lineups and are not used in any of the calculations.

Each chapter also lists notable aliases or alternate ring names used by some of the wrestlers in the crew as well as a list of all additional wrestlers who were booked in the territory at least once during each quarter. These can include part-time preliminary wrestlers, nationally known stars coming for a handful of appearances or what were considered “special attractions” of the era, such as women or midget wrestlers.

The last chapter of this Almanac ranks the top stars and the top feuds in the territory, based on the week-to-week stats and also taking into account longevity. It serves as a quick summary to get a feel for the biggest names and biggest feuds over the course of the two years the territory was in existence.

ALTERNATE RING NAMES / ALIASES

The Mongolians – Tio & Tapu

(It should be noted that there were numerous occasions where the Mongolians were sent to different towns when the promotion ran two shows on one night. On some of these occasions, BOTH towns were advertising “Mongolian #1” instead of one town advertising #1 and the other town advertising #2. In these cases, I gave partial credit for each booking to each Mongolian when calculating the SPOT Ratings.)

Oki Shikina – Pedro Zapata

OTHER WRESTLERS NOT LISTED IN THE SPOT RATINGS

PART TIMERS

Bad Boy Hines, Bill Brady, Bill Cody, Brad Gilliam, Bruce Bailey, Dan Sites, Ed Flukert, Jerry Lanthrup, Lao Seiki, Ray Hudson, Reggie Seiki (Reggie and Lao Seiki may have been the same person; this was almost certainly not Sweet Daddy Siki, who wrestled as Reggie Siki early in his career), Rough House Graham, Wayne Hall

WOMEN WRESTLERS

Ann Casey, Betty Sims, the Masked Beauty and Natasha
(the overall SPOT Rating for women wrestlers this quarter was a .59)

MANAGERS

Billy Spears managed the Mongolians briefly

Superstar Collins managed Pretty Boy Collins and, for a short time, the Mongolians
(the Mongolians were seemingly on a quest to find the right manager; neither Spears nor Collins was the answer, but their quest would be over soon...)

ALTERNATE RING NAMES / ALIASES

Don Fargo – Jack Dalton, Wildman Stevens, Private Don Fargo (as a partner of Sgt. Jacques [Rene] Goulet), Don Garfield

Burrhead Jones – Jimmy Jones

Sugar Bear Harris – Jim Harris aka Kamala, Ugly Bear Harris

Verlon Biggs – former NFL defensive end (New York Jets, 1965-1970; Washington Redskins, 1971-1974); trained for wrestling by Stan “Plowboy” Frazier

NATIONALLY KNOWN STARS

Lou Thesz, the Islanders (aka the Wild Samoans Afa & Sika), Tiny Frazier (Stan “Plowboy” Frazier)

PART TIMERS

Ann Casey, Beverly Shade, Cat LeRue, Donna Starr, Natasha, Tracey Richards
(the overall SPOT Rating for women wrestlers this quarter was a .51)

MIDGET WRESTLERS

Carolina Kid, Colorado Kid, Jamaica Kid, Kid Chocolate, Pee Wee Dillinger
(the three “Kid” wrestlers may have all been the same person; Colorado Kid was obviously not Mike Rapada)
(the overall SPOT Rating for midget wrestlers this quarter was a .42)

MANAGERS

Mugsy Malone managed Don Fargo (some sources say Mugsy was David Strawn aka Kortsia Korchenko but I believe they are two different people; it appears both men used the ring name “Mike Diamond” at some point, which may be where the confusion arose from)

Percy Pringle managed the Mongolians

NATIONALLY KNOWN STARS

Danny Davis, the Islanders (Afa & Sika), Nick Bockwinkel

When the Culkins first split with Leroy McGuirk, they became affiliated with the AWA and recognized Bockwinkel as World Heavyweight champion. On November 8th in Jackson, the main event was a match between Pork Chop Cash and Mongolian #1 for the U.S. title with the winner to receive a World title match against Bockwinkel. Pork Chop won that bout, and Bockwinkel came in the following week for the title bout. The match was supposed to go to a 60-minute time limit draw, but according to Gil Culkin the timekeeper was so enthralled watching the match that he forgot to give time cues and they actually went about 75 minutes before time was called.

ALTERNATE RING NAMES / ALIASES

Billy Screaming Eagle – Raul Mata

Don Bass – any number of masked gimmicks in Memphis including being an Assassin, one of the A-Team, the Boston Strangler, Fire (of the team Fire & Flame), an Intern, the Rock & Roll Phantom and the Scorpion

The Grappler – this is believed to be Curtis Smith; he may also have used the ring names the Mighty Yankee and the Blue Yankee here

Man Mountain Dean – this could not have been the original Man Mountain Dean (Frank Simmons Leavitt) as he passed away in 1953. Three other wrestlers used the ring name “Man Mountain Dean Jr.” at various times, but all three of them were also deceased prior to 1979

Missing Link – this was definitely not Dewey Robertson, and his identity is one of wrestling’s (minor) mysteries; he also wrestled for Bill Watts in the early days of Mid-South Wrestling

Mr Fugi – Yasu Fuji, Yasuyuki Fuji, Hiro Ota, Colonel Yan Ky (this was NOT Harry Fujiwara aka Mr. Fuji)

Ozark Ike – this is believed to be Steve Kyle aka Steve “Gorilla” Lawler

Rip Rogers – Mark Sciarra, the Disco Kid

ALTERNATE RING NAMES / ALIASES

Butcher Brannigan – Buck Brannigan, Joe Nova

Missouri Mauler – this may have been Larry Hamilton though I'm not 100% positive; Hamilton's last known whereabouts were in Florida as late as April, so the timeline does match up

Sheik Zataar – Rick Sanchez, Abdul Zataar

PART TIMERS

Billy Hamilton, Bob Hart, Don Stuart, Ed Don George, Jimmy Huddleston, Jimmy Young, John Guy, Larry Hardin, Larry Hart, Masked Marvel, Masked Medic, Rick Miller, Ron Hill, Scrap Iron Jackson
(while anything is possible in wrestling, I am fairly certain that the Ed Don George listed here was not the very famous wrestler of that name from the 1930s; that Ed Don George retired from in-ring action when he joined the Navy in 1942 and would have been in his mid-70s by this point)

WOMEN WRESTLERS

Black Beauty, Cat LeRue, Toughie Griffin, Tracey Richards
(the overall SPOT Rating for women wrestlers this quarter was a .45)

The Spoiler

PART TIMERS

Billy Hamilton, Blackjack Johnson, Bob Blake, Don Stewart, Jack Graham, Jim Browning, Jim Brunell (likely the same wrestler who appeared in '77 billed as Jim Bunell and still almost certainly not Jim Brunzell), Jim White, Jim Wright, Jimmy Young, Larry Hardin, the Masked Medic, Rick Miller, the Scorpion, Tommy Tate

WOMEN WRESTLERS

Betty Sims, Bobby Watson, Cat LeRue, Julie Woods, Lilly Thomas, Lily Johnson, Mary Griffin, Tracey Richards (the overall SPOT Rating for women wrestlers this quarter was a .56)

MANAGERS

Izzy Slapowitz managed Mr. Fugi and Oki Shikina

The August 4th card is believed to be the final one promoted by the Culkins as part of their stand-alone territory. The Culkins then joined up with Bill Watts, who at this point in time was in the process of splitting from Leroy McGuirk and starting his own promotion (to be named Mid-South Wrestling) in Louisiana and Mississippi. The Culkins would continue on as local promoters for the shows in Mississippi. Watts' split from McGuirk wasn't finalized until early September.

A card was run on August 18th in Jackson, billed as "AWA and NWA Championship Wrestling" and featuring mostly wrestlers from the McGuirk/Watts crew plus King Cobra and Pork Chop Cash (Pork Chop had started for McGuirk full-time that week) as well as a special main event:

8/18/79 Jackson, MS

Bill Watts & Dusty Rhodes vs Ivan Koloff & Ole Anderson

North American title: Jerry Oates vs Mr Wrestling II

Mississippi State title: King Cobra vs Mike George

Iron Mike Sharpe vs King Kong Mosca

Charlie Cook vs Luke Graham

Mike Bowyer vs Pork Chop Cash

Stan Lane vs Tank Patton

Jackson was run again on 8/27 while the other Mississippi towns remained 'dark'. After the split between Watts and McGuirk, the first known shows run in the major Mississippi towns under the Mid-South Wrestling banner are as follows:

9/12/79 Jackson

9/29/79 Greenwood

10/4/79 Biloxi

10/10/79 Vicksburg

10/18/79 Greenville

SUMMARY: RATING THE TOP STARS AND BIGGEST FEUDS

As you can see, there were a lot of wrestlers who traveled in and out of the territory in its' short existence. I decided to compile a list of the Top 20 wrestlers in the territory. To calculate this list, I looked at the weekly SPOT Ratings for each wrestler. If a wrestler's SPOT was in the Upper Mid-Carder range (between .60 and .80), they got 1 point. If a wrestler's SPOT was in the Main Eventer range (above or equal to .80), they got an additional point, with a third point awarded if their SPOT was above or equal to .90. I then added all of the points up for each wrestler. This method rewards wrestlers who were in the territory for a long period of time and were positioned higher up the cards for much of that run.

TOP 20 WRESTLERS IN ICW/AWA (Culkin/Mississippi) – Oct 1977-Aug 1979, total "points" in parentheses

1. Mongolian #1 (157 points)
2. Tom Shaft (149)
3. Mongolian #2 (128)
4. Great Mephisto (123)
5. Oki Shikina (95)
6. Pork Chop Cash (82)
7. Hippie (Troy) Graham (76)
8. Tom Jones (70)
9. Terry Gordy (61)
10. Doctor X (53)
11. Pretty Boy Collins (48)
12. Mr. Fugi (47)
13. Sugar Bear (Ugly Bear) Harris (43)
14. Phil Watson (37)
15. King Cobra (33)

17. Arman Hussein (31)
18. Billy Screaming Eagle (25)
19. (tie) Johnny Mantell (21)
- (tie) Nikita Alexev (21)

I also calculated the Top 10 feuds. I used a similar method as above, with matches that had a weekly FEUD Score of 15 or higher getting 1 point, 25 or higher getting 2 points and 40 or above getting 3 points.
