Pine Hill Cemetery Lantern Tour

Charles Stodgill Miles (1929-1937)

He was only eight years old when he died a sudden tragic death caused by an allergic reaction to an insect bite. Truly ironic, as his father was an entomologist.

His parents erected a beautiful monument of Italian marble at his gravesite. It is of a kneeling boy holding up a plate with a lizard in the center.

This statue is the most vandalized in the cemetery. His head has been stolen and replaced and stolen again!
