

Meltdown Inc., Park Slope's unique 'social service arts' organization recently held its second annual Hank Awards ceremony. Hon. Kenneth Fisher (center), New York City Council Member, was a recipient for "outstanding community service." Council Member Fisher is presented with the award by Rick Russo, Meltdown's Board President and Bronwyn Rucker, Meltdown's Artistic Director at the special occasion. Other award recipients were Jamal Phipps (below left) and Joann Incatasciato (below right), both from Meltdown's Teen Leadership Program. They are pictured here performing a drama scene addressing racism. Both young people are peer educators.

