Excerpt from Poem
“A Place Fit for a King”

*Written for the Dedication of the
Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Administrative Center
Naples, Florida*

*by Dr. Rozalyne P. Wright
January 8, 2004*

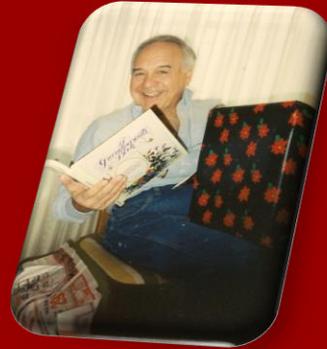

*A large beautiful palace, armed guards, marble floors;
Servants, a garden, gold and silver colored doors.
A jester, entertainment, the throne in the west wing;
Such things are the norm in a place fit for a king.*

...

*We've now made this building the home of a king;
But not the kind to whom maidens would sing;
This king is one who preached of love and hope;
Hope for equality and the strength to cope.*

~ The Greeting ~

by Dr. Rozalyne P. Wright

August 27, 2009

*“Welcome, Family,” I recall Sonja saying,
As we entered the hotel foyer;
That little phrase really touched my heart,
And that moment, I will long remember.*

• • •

*To me, those words are of great significance –
Words spoken from the heart;
For her countenance beamed of sincerity,
And, in love, her arms flew apart.*

~ My Tribute to My Dad ~

by Dr. Rozalynne P. Wright
November 10, 2009

*When I think of the many joys we've shared,
The ways he shows me that he cares –
I know that I am truly blessed
To be Stanley K's little princess.*

*I love you, Dad, more than you'll ever know.
You mean so much to me.
And I take this opportunity to say,
"Thank you for letting me be me."*

by Dr. Rozalynne P. Wright

May 14, 2009

*It was 19 hundred and 72
When she came to the U.S.A.
A bright, intelligent Bahamian diva,
She came to study, not knowing she'd stay!*

. . .

*She was very creative in her approach
As she planned for the ESOL groups.
The students really loved working with her –
