About the Artist

Doris Faye Jones is an artist with a preference for vibrant colors. She uses strong lines and intensely bright colors. Her work has often been described akin to looking at stained glass windows. She affectionately and lovingly calls her artwork, “labors of love”.

This book contains a collection of her artwork to date, which spans over three decades. She is also a Mother of two sons, writer, poet, comic, photographer, broadcast host, as well as a myriad of other creative talents.

*This book is dedicated to Jason Michael Frandin, also known as Sun God. His love, inspiration and overwhelming awe at my paintings burned a deep soul imprint within me to create; and never stop creating.
I've been painting ever since.*

*I'll always remember his wisdom and grace with infinite gratitude and appreciation.
With all my Love, his "Angel"*

*Without words,
Without rules,
Without any hesitation,
Always Create.*
