If claims of cattle to be marketed change, please contact IMI for a new certificate.

This is a chain of custody document used to transfer approved claims to the next location receiving the cattle and does not qualify for final claim verification or export requirements. IMI Global requires finished cattle to arrive at the processing facility with a Right to Ship Certificate issued to the final finishing location to ensure claims have been maintained and are still approved.

* Completed certificate and EID tag manifest must accompany cattle shipment or be faxed, mailed or emailed to the receiver at shipping. Retain a copy of the completed certificate with your records.
