

Joseph L. Verna

Joseph L. Verna, 57, of Philadelphia, died at St. Joseph's Manor, Meadow Brook.

Born in Philadelphia, he was a son of the late Joseph and Margaret Dougherty Verna.

He was an Army veteran of the Vietnam war and a member of St. Dominick's Church, Philadelphia.

Surviving are his wife, the former Vivian Grigas Verna; an aunt and uncle, Mary and Edward Sklaris, Frackville; an aunt, Florence Jerritti, Philadelphia.

Relatives and friends are invited to join the family for Joseph's Mass of Christian Burial at 10:30 a.m. Monday in Annunciation BVM Catholic Church, Frackville.

Interment will be in the parish cemetery, Englewood. There will be no public viewing.

Thomas M. Sullivan Funeral Home, Frackville, is in charge of arrangements.

Anna Mary Vebrosky

Anna Mary Vebrosky, 88, of Frackville, passed away Thursday at Broad Mountain Nursing Home, Frackville.

Born in Frackville on Sept. 3, 1926, she was a daughter of the late Anthony and Anna A. Arnosky Wasaitis.

She was the widow of Joseph P. Vebrosky, who preceded her in death in 1975.

Anna was a member of St. Joseph's Parish, Frackville, and was owner of Anna's Antiques for 59 years.

She is survived by two sons, Joseph A. Vebrosky, husband of Ann L., and Anthony J. Vebrosky, husband of Bernadette, both of Frackville; grandchildren, Jenna Sperling, wife of Matthew, Lansdale, Kyra Marks, wife of Jason, Barnesville, and Emily Vebrosky; 3 great-grandchildren, Caleigh and Jadyn Sperling and Wyatt Marks; two sisters, Mary Hoover, Frackville, and Ruth Woof, York; a nephew, Michael Belfonti; and a niece, Ann Hoover-Smith.

A Celebration of Life funeral service and interment will be held privately at the family's convenience. At the family's request, memorial donations may be sent to St. Joseph's Parish, 7 S. Broad Mountain Ave., Frackville, PA 17931. To extend online condolences, visit www.gsesfuneralhomes.com. Ebling Stabingas Funeral Home, Cressona, has been entrusted with arrangements.