To: CityServe Canada

On behalf of the Youth Summit for Mother Earth and our Youth Coordinator, Adrian Murphy, we extend our heartfelt gratitude to CityServe Canada for your extraordinary generosity in donating tens of thousands of dollars' worth of Amazon return products to First Nation communities. Your contribution represents far more than material goods—it represents solidarity, compassion, and a tangible commitment to uplifting Indigenous youth and families across Ontario.

The diversity of your gift-in-kind donations has been nothing short of remarkable. From household essentials and clothing to tools, electronics, and everyday necessities, each box has provided immediate relief and lasting impact for families in need. We are deeply appreciative that CityServe Canada not only coordinated these donations but also arranged for the trucking and delivery, ensuring that every item reached our community members efficiently and safely.

The dozens of large boxes that arrived have already been put to good use, supporting youth programs, elders, and families across our First Nation communities. The gratitude felt within our community is immeasurable. CityServe Canada's partnership stands as a beautiful example of how collaboration and goodwill can bridge distances and create real change. From everyone at the Youth Summit for Mother Earth, thank you for standing with us and for Mother Earth in the spirit of unity and generosity.

With sincere appreciation,

Adrian Murphy
