To Our Friends at CityServe,

With hearts full of gratitude, the Delaware First Nation Health Program wishes to acknowledge and thank you for your kindness and generosity. The gifts you have shared through your partnership with Amazon have brought comfort, hope, and encouragement to many within our community.

Your donation came to us not only as physical items, but as a reflection of your good intentions and caring spirit. Each item carries the energy of giving, and that energy strengthens the wellness of our people. In our teachings, acts of kindness create ripples that touch many lives, often in ways unseen. Your generosity will be remembered in that spirit.

In caring for the health of our community, we know that true wellbeing is found in balance, in body, mind, heart, and spirit. Your support has helped us nurture that balance by easing burdens and reminding our people that we are surrounded by friends who care.

We honour the compassion and respect that guide your work at CityServe. Your partnership is a meaningful example of how communities can walk together in a good way, listening, sharing, and lifting one another up.

From all of us at the Delaware First Nation Health Program, please accept our sincere thanks. May your organization continue its journey of service with strength, kindness, and good spirit.

With respect and gratitude,
