Enjoy the coastal villages of Croatia

Day 3: Tuesday, May 31 – On to Opatija via Ljubljana

This morning we are off to Ljubljana, Slovenia’s quaint capital. You’ll have a guided visit through Ljubljana’s charming lanes and some free time to browse through the many boutiques and canal-lined cobblestone streets. This afternoon we continue our journey east to Opatija. Before World War I, this was Austria-Hungary’s most fashionable seaside resort and the place to “see and be seen” for the czars of Russia and luminaries such as Isadora Duncan and Gustav Mahler. The grand residences of the wealthy and noble are now elegant hotels that offer the grandeur and sophistication of a bygone age. The regal waterfront promenade stretches nearly nine miles. Sleep in Opatija (B, D)

Day 4: Wednesday, June 1 – South to Split, Gateway to the Dalmatian Islands

Our expedition continues south to the coastal villages of Šibenik and Split. Unlike other coastal towns, which were founded by the Illyrians, Greeks or Romans, Šibenik is the oldest native Croatian town on the eastern shore of the Adriatic. Surrounded by the sea, a river, mountains and beautiful valleys, Šibenik claims to possess Croatia’s most stunning cathedral. St James is a unique and outstanding structure where Gothic and Renaissance architectural styles have been successfully blended, and it is also a UNESCO World Heritage site. After lunch, we’ll continue south to our next destination: the walled city of Split. Sleep in Split (B, D)

Spend three nights on the Island of Hvar

Day 5: Thursday, June 2 – Discover Split

An important UNESCO World Heritage site and the largest city in the region, Split is not to be missed. Along with our superb local guide, we'll set out to explore the Old Town or "Grad." The oldest part of Split is located within the walls of Emperor Diocletian's Palace. This well-preserved palace represents the most valuable example of Roman architecture on the eastern coast of the Adriatic Sea. After constructing the palace in the 4th century AD, Diocletian spent his declining years here, which wasn't far from his birthplace of Aspalathos in Dalmatia.

After enjoying a traditional lunch together, the afternoon is yours to relax or further explore this fascinating city. Sleep in Split (B, L)

Day 6: Friday, June 3 – Ferry Hopping Through the Dalmatian Islands

The island of Hvar is thought to be so beautiful that many travelers find themselves unable to continue on with their planned journey and instead spend their remaining days on Hvar. Wild lavender, rosemary, olive trees and vines cover the rich landscape of this long and narrow island. The town is protected by 13th century walls and enjoys the embrace of pine-covered hills and the azure-blue Adriatic. Historically, Hvar owes her charms to Venice, for it was under Venetian rule that many of the glorious buildings were built. We'll embark on a ferry in Split and arrive in Hvar in the afternoon, with just enough time to explore the old walled town and perhaps relax in a seaside café.

Sleep in Hvar (B, D)

Day 7: Saturday, June 4 – Morning walking tour of Hvar and a country outing

This morning we'll set out with our knowledgeable local guide to explore old town Hvar. En route we'll discover how the Greeks, Romans and Venetians helped to cultivate the unique culture of the Dalmatian islands. Sleep in Hvar (B, L)

After breakfast, we depart for Dubrovnik. Once a Roman town, Dubrovnik rightfully claims to be one of the world's most beautiful cities. With her thick stone walls, wide café-lined marble streets, towering cathedrals and vibrant cultural life, Dubrovnik will seduce you. We'll depart early for this Adriatic gem and arrive at our hotel by late afternoon.

Sleep in Cavat in the vicinity of Dubrovnik (B, D)

Day 10: Tuesday, June 7 – A Full Day in Dubrovnik

We return to Cavat in the late afternoon. Sleep in Cavat in the vicinity of Dubrovnik (B, L)
