TRAVEL TO CUBA WITH KJAZZ

43rd International Jazz Festival of Havana

January 16 - 23, 2022

California State University, Long Beach

Yes, you can still travel legally to Cuba! Join me, Jose Rizo, and a lively group of fellow jazz lovers, as I host the 5th KJAZZ Public Radio adventure to Havana, Cuba. Sponsored by famed Cuban musician Chucho Valdes and the Cuban Institute of Music, the International Jazz Festival of Havana showcases some of the biggest names in jazz, along with talented new artists. How do we do it? By ensuring we take part in the "Support for the Cuban People" travel category courtesy of Earthbound Expeditions. We'll enjoy performances in venues scattered throughout Havana and also be hosted at private concerts where we'll meet the musicians. In addition to the festival, we'll visit social projects aimed at helping disadvantaged youth, take salsa dance lessons from private instructors, eat in private paladar restaurants to support local families and attend a special jazz workshop with Cuban musicians. Stroll the famous Malecón, wander in the picturesque historic center of Havana, lounge in a doorway in your fedora and ride in a classic convertible, all to the sultry sounds of Cuban jazz. Join us and celebrate jazz and support the Cuban people at the same time!

Day 2: Monday, January 17 - Cuba's National Art Schools: This morning we'll see the Plaza de la Revolución and the Miramar area before arriving at the National Art Schools (Instituto Superior de Arte). These structures are considered by historians to be among the most outstanding architectural achievements of the Cuban Revolution. These innovative, organic Catalan-vaulted brick and terra-cotta buildings were built on the site of a former country club in the far western Havana suburb of Cubanacán, which used to be Havana's "Beverly Hills" and was then mainly reserved for Communist Party officials. The schools were conceived and founded by Fidel Castro and Che Guevara in 1961, and they reflect the utopian optimism and revolutionary exuberance of the early years of the Cuban Revolution. Over their years of active use, the schools served as the primary incubator for Cuba's artists, musicians, actors, and dancers. The schools' design fell out of favor by 1965 and was nearly completely decommissioned until preservation efforts were mounted in force in the 1990s. Now tentatively on the list of World Heritage sites, they are in use, though still in various states of disrepair. We'll tour the facility with the Director of the school and meet with art students and purchase some of their art work.

Lunch today is in the elegant Miramar section of Havana. In the afternoon we'll have a jazz workshop led by some of Cuba's most respected jazz musicians. Sleep in Havana at the Melia Cohiba Hotel (B, L)

Day 3: Tuesday, January 18 - The History of Dance and Conservatorio Guillermo Tomas:

Early birds may wish to soak up the sun and walk along the Malecón before breakfast. Then we set off to learn about the history of music and dance in Cuba. We'll meet with multiple instructors and learn to dance the Cha Cha Cha, Rumba, Salsa and Merengué.

This afternoon we'll visit the Conservatorio Guillermo Tomas. This music school has 500 students ranging in age from 8 to 19. The 40 annual graduates go on to join the best symphony, chamber and popular orchestras, or become music professors for new students. This is your opportunity to bring music-related donations or other items most needed. Last year we bought them their fans for their rehearsal room! ("Gift" suggestions will be included in your pre-departure information).

Enjoy lunch together and a free afternoon in Havana. Sleep in Havana at the Melia Cohiba Hotel (B, L)

Day 4: Wednesday, January 19 - Hemingway, Organic Garden and Open Air Market

This morning we're off to visit Finca Vigía (Lookout Farm) where North America's literary giant, Ernest Hemingway, spent twenty-one of his most important and productive years penning building blocks of English literature. Claimed by both the United States and Cuba as their son, it was Hemingway himself who declared the island his true home. We will meet with a local Hemingway expert and to discuss his life.

We will also visit a organic farm and local market and with the assistance of your guide, meet and converse with growers, vendors and shoppers. You'll also have a chance to shop for dinner like a local, then gift it to several deserving recipients.

The Havana Jazz Fest kicks off tonight and we have tickets to attend! Sleep in Havana at the Melia Cohiba Hotel (B, L, D)

Day 5: Thursday, January 20 - Architecture Walk and Sacred Marriage Ceremony

One of Havana's many charms is the "elegant decay" of the buildings. Enjoy a stroll today that focuses on the splendid architecture of this city, unlike anywhere in the world. Discuss with local experts, then have lunch together, after which we will learn the art of making a humidor. Later, you are invited to partake in a very special marriage ceremony...of rum and cigars. One can't come to Cuba without appreciating these two fixtures of Cuban culture.

After dinner, you can check out the Havana arts scene with a visit to La Fábrica de Arte Cubano or FAC, an old oil factory that is now a thriving arts space or join the group for another night at the Havana Jazz Fest! Sleep in Havana at the Melia Cohiba Hotel (B, L, D)

Day 6: Friday, January 21 - An Excursion west to Las Terrazas and Fusterlandia

This morning we leave for Las Terrazas. En-route we'll travel through the lush countryside planted with sugar cane, corn, rice, and taro. With few vestiges of modernization, the region seems set back in time with farming communities still harvesting by hand and using horse and carts to transport goods to free markets. Las Terrazas is located in the Pinar del Rio province and is now part of UNESCO's Biosphere Reserve, much of it reforested coffee plantation. We'll visit with the local farmers who will serve a delicious traditional lunch and also visit a medical center where you can bring medical-related gifts.

Upon our return to Havana, we stop at the private home and studio of famed Cuban artist, José Fuster who is known as the Picasso of the Caribbean. Mr. Fuster is a ceramicist and painter whose work has contributed to the upgrading of his entire community. When you drive through the neighborhood which is known as "Fusterlandia," you see ceramic tiled walls in fanciful designs. You'll learn about his work and are will also be able to purchase some of his art. This evening we head out to enjoy the Havana Jazz Festival! Sleep in Havana at the Melia Cohiba Hotel (B, L)

Day 7: Saturday, January 22 - Santeria and Muraleando

After breakfast, we'll visit a private Santeria house where we'll converse with local believers about the religion, which is a system of beliefs that merges the Yoruba religion (brought to the New World by enslaved West Africans sent to the Caribbean to work on sugar plantations) with Roman Catholicism and Native American traditions.

After lunch together we will head to Muraleando, a cultural community center that has transformed a neighborhood into an art gallery. Created to build artistic skills in children, classes are offered in pottery, painting, music, dance and engraving. This visit will serve as an exceptionally inspiring high note on which to end the tour. Our farewell dinner this evening will be celebrated at a local paladar, after which, we'll head out for one last festive night at the Havana Jazz Festival!

Sleep in Havana at the Melia Cohiba (B, L, D)

Day 8: Sunday, January 23 - Depart Cuba for the US

We transfer to Havana's Jose Marti Airport where we check in for our flights to the States. Buen Viaje! (B)

Please Note: The Cuban National Tourist Agency, a department of the Republic of Cuba, has the ability to make changes to lodging arrangements and individual tour activities at any time. It is an uncommon practice, but such itinerary changes are sometimes a reality for groups traveling in this communist country. Earthbound has been leading successful trips to Cuba since 2012 and we will do our best to ensure a quality experience for you on this journey. Nevertheless, to enjoy Cuba, it is essential to have a sense of adventure, a high degree of flexibility, a spirit of adventure, and a sense of humor.

*THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW...

This legal Cuba tour is operated under the general license, in the category of “Support for the Cuban People.” OFAC (The Department of the Treasury’s Office of Foreign Asset Control) has amended this general license to require that each traveler utilizing this authorization engage in a full-time schedule of activities that enhance contact with the Cuban people, support civil society in Cuba, or promote the Cuban people’s independence from Cuban authorities and that result in meaningful interactions with individuals in Cuba. The traveler’s schedule of activities must not include free time or recreation in excess of that consistent with a full-time schedule in Cuba. For a complete description of what this general license authorizes and the restrictions that apply, see 31 CFR § 515.574.

Cuba is a developing country and still lacks many modern conveniences. It’s not unusual to experience short power black-outs or to find that your hot water, internet, TV or phone in your hotel room does not work properly (or at all). Further, the Cuban government and incoming Havana agency has the right to change the itinerary without notice (and often does). We’ll be travelling under a “Support of the Cuban People” license, which means that our days will be filled with independent activities intended to strengthen civil society in Cuba. Your day will begin around 8:30am and end around 5:00pm. This is not a trip for those looking for a leisurely, five-star beach holiday or a deluxe resort experience. Travelers who arrive in Havana with a sense of humor, an open mind, and are ready to be flexible, will absolutely fall in love with the people and culture of Cuba.

RESERVATIONS

Reservations and Deposits: A per person deposit of $500 is needed to confirm your space on most journeys. An additional deposit of $200 is required to confirm a seat on the group flight. Once the deposit is processed, a deposit packet is sent with pertinent journey details.

Final Payment: You will be sent an invoice approximately 90 days prior to departure. A non-refundable final payment, payable by money order, check or credit card is due 75 days before departure. It is the responsibility of each passenger to make a timely payment. A final packet of information will be sent approximately three weeks before departure.

Cancellations: All cancellations must be made in writing and are effective upon receipt in our office. Deposits are fully refundable for 60 days from the processing date or 90 days prior to departure, whichever comes first. Deposits made 90 days prior to a trip departing are not refundable. A $75 per person processing fee applies to all cancellations.

No refunds are made for cancellations after the non-refundable deposit date. It is for this reason we strongly encourage the purchase of travel insurance at the same time you reserve your journey with us.

Concert and Events: If a planned concert or event is cancelled for any reason, another concert or event will be included in its place. This will not be cause for refund.

Hosted Journeys: If a host or special guest is unable to attend as planned, Earthbound Expeditions will do its utmost to find another host who has similar interests, talents and expertise. The inability of a host to participate in a tour is not grounds for a full or partial refund.

YOUR KJAZZ HOST: JOSE RIZO

Jose Rizo was born in Guadalajara, Mexico and raised in Oxnard, California. He played trumpet in high school, but it was not until he was a student at U.C. Santa Barbara that he developed his passion for jazz. In the late 70s, Jose was the founder of “Radio Chicano”, a student and community broadcasting organization based on the Santa Barbara campus at KCSB, where he served as program director for two years. Rizo began hosting “Jazz on the Latin Side” on KLON (now KJazz) in early 1990. He was intricately involved on KLON’s “Latin Jazz Club Caravans” and served as a member of the Grammy’s Screening committee for Latin Jazz. He has been the artistic director of the Luckman Fine Arts Latin Jazz Concert Series and involved in the “Central Avenue Jazz Festival” since its inception.

Proud Partners Since 2008

Earthbound Expeditions offers customized overseas adventures for universities, museums, garden clubs, and numerous public radio stations. Earthbound Expeditions is committed to supporting environmental education, local small businesses and providing guests with a one-of-a-kind, authentic travel experience. Whenever possible, Earthbound reserves locally-owned hotels, utilizes the talents of local lecturers, and dines in family-owned establishments. Earthbound also supports projects like the Soweto Youth and Development Project of South Africa, the Mama Rosie Orphanage in Cape Town, Maasai Girls Rescue Center in Tanzania and is assisting families and projects in Cambodia, Haiti, Uganda, Zimbabwe and the USA.

Environmental Commitment

Through Earthbound's proud partnership with the Carbonfund.org, Earthbound Expeditions makes annual donations so as to help offset a guest's carbon footprint. For every guest who signs up on an Earthbound Expedition, $50 will be donated to the Carbonfund.

The Carbonfund.org motto, "Reduce what you can; offset what you can't" fits perfectly with Earthbound Expeditions' long established philosophy of supporting locally-owned businesses, promoting education and embracing the concept of "slow" travel.

By using a simple carbon calculator, Carbonfund.org is able to determine the size of your carbon footprint for any specific domestic or overseas adventure. You then may purchase carbon credits. These credits go towards supporting (1) renewable energy, (2) energy efficiency and (3) reforestation projects.

For more information see: <http://www.carbonfund.org/Calculators>.
