At the 17th-century Rubens House, period rooms display works by the Flemish Baroque painter Peter Paul Rubens.

And for Europeans emigrating to Canada or the USA in the 18th and 19th centuries, Antwerp was the main embarkation point for the Red Star Line. Two million passengers funneled through Antwerp to board Red Star Line ships. The excellent Red Star Line museum focuses on passenger stories, the ships and the history of city and port of Antwerp.
