DAY 3: Saturday, April 2 - Hamarikyu Gardens and Tokyo National Museum

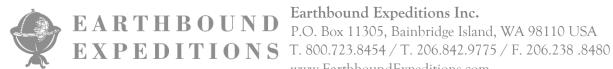

Japanese gardens are known for exquisite attention to detail, and today we see examples of this as we visit a few of the country's most beautiful gardens: Kiyosumi Teien gardens built around a series of ponds, the Hamarikyu Gardens, and the Koishikawa Korakuen gardens. As one of Tokyo's oldest and famous gardens, the Koishikawa Korakuen was built in the early Edo period as the residence for an important samurai family.

After a delicious lunch, we head inside to the Tokyo National Museum, one of the largest and best collections of art and archeological artifacts, made up of over 110,000 individual items, including nearly a hundred national treasures. In addition to the exhibition halls, there are also gardens, tea houses, shops and cafes spread out around the grounds. Sleep in Tokyo (B, L)

DAY 4: Sunday, April 3 - Discover Tokyo

Enjoy the spacious lawns, meandering paths and tranquil scenery of Shinjuku Gyoen, one of Tokyo's largest parks. In spring, it becomes one of the most popular places in the city to see cherry blossoms.

Next, visit the Edo Tokyo Museum, and learn about how Tokyo changed from a small fishing village into the largest metropolis in the world. Interactive exhibits explain more about the many waterways, trade routes and geography that surround the city. Then, make your way to Tsukiji Outer Fish Market, the world's largest wholesale fish and seafood market. It is lined with more than 400 shops selling everything food-related, from fresh ingredients to cooking utensils. The Outer Market is also a private market - it will stay put even in the event the Inner Market relocates. Sleep in Tokyo (B, D)

Much of Naoshima's art was installed by the Benesse Corporation, which oversees art museums, installations and sculptures both on Naoshima and on neighboring islands. Benesse's museums were designed by the well-known Japanese architect Ando Tadao and include the Chichu Art Museum, Lee Ufan Museum and all the buildings of the Benesse House.

DAY 8: Thursday, April 7 - Experience Kyoto

We begin the day with a visit to Kiyomizu Temple, also known as the Pure Water Temple. First, take in the majestic views from the 13-metre high veranda before further exploring the grounds and crowded tourist shopping street Matsubara-dori, full of shops and restaurants.

You will then have some free time to explore Ninenzaka and Sannenzaka, which is a preserved area with restored shop houses where you can imagine what Kyoto looked like before modernity descended.

Next, make your way to Chionin, the head temple of the Jodo sect of Japanese Buddhism, which has millions of followers and is one the most popular Buddhist sects in Japan. The temple has spacious grounds and large buildings.

Finally, you will visit Maruyama Park - Kyoto's most popular park for cherry blossom viewing - located in the center of Higashiyama district. Sleep in Kyoto (B, L)

DAY 9: Friday, April 8 - A Day in Kyoto

Start your day by strolling through Miyagawa-cho, one of the five active hanamachi, which literally translates to "flower town." Continue to Gion Hanami Koji Street and enjoy the aroma from classic Japanese restaurants and the view of ochaya, otherwise known as Japanese tea rooms. You may even happen to see a geisha or a maiko (apprentice Geisha) while walking around this historical area.

Make your way to Kenninji temple, the oldest Zen temple in Kyoto, established in 1202. Explore Karesansui, a famous Japanese rock garden, and admire Fujinraijinzu, a picture drawn by Soutatu Tawaraya and a national treasure that you may already have heard of.

Today, we'll also dive into the fascinating world of kabuki at Kyoto's Minamiza Theater. Kabuki is one of Japan's oldest and most revered art forms. It includes singing, dancing and story-telling, and is certainly one of the most fascinating cultural experiences in the country of the rising sun.

Finally, we head to Yasaka Shrine. Founded over 1,350 years ago, the shrine connects the Geisha District of Gion with the beautiful Higashiyama Temple District.

In the afternoon, you are free to explore Kyoto on your own. Sleep in Kyoto (B, L)

DAY 10: Saturday, April 9 - Explore Kyoto

Today, you will visit two beautiful and iconic UNESCO World Heritage Sites, Ginkakuji and Nanzenji.

We begin with Ginkakuji, also known as the Silver Pavilion, a Zen temple with a beautiful moss garden and a unique dry sand garden. Then, take a walk on the Philosopher's Path, a pleasant stone path through the northern part of Kyoto's Higashiyama district, which follows a canal lined by hundreds of cherry trees.

Finally, we move on to Nanzenji to admire the garden and painted sliding doors at the Hojo, the former head priest's residence and Nanzenji's main hall.

Enjoy a delicious dinner at a local restaurant. Sleep in Kyoto (B, D)

Day 11: Sunday, April 10 - Explore Kyoto and Depart Japan for the USA

Discover the charm and tranquility of Arashiyama, located on the Western outskirts of Kyoto. Start the day at Okochi Mountain Villa, the former estate of famed film star Okochi Denjiro. Stroll around the splendid gardens, which have impressive viewpoints of the city below. The villa itself is considered the finest example of traditional Japanese residential architecture in the country. Take a moment to enjoy a complimentary matcha green tea and traditional Japanese sweets in this charming setting.

Finish off at Tenryuji Temple, a 14th-century temple that was built by the ruling Shogun Ashikaga Takauji to appease the spirit of Emporer Go-Daigo. Takauji was his ally, before he turned against the emperor in a struggle for supremacy over Japan. A UNESCO World Heritage Site, take in the simplistic beauty of this important Zen Temple, before exploring its grounds. The gardens are true to their original design, with a peaceful reflective pond and stately pine trees enveloped by the forested mountains of Arashiyama.

Take a moment to contemplate and put your mind at ease, before departing Kyoto for the Osaka Airport. Flight departure times for the group return flight to Portland will be announced 11 months prior to departure. (B, L)
