

A Celebration of MUSIC & CULTURE

Classical Germany, Leipzig, Dresden and Prague with Performance Today host Valerie Kahler May 12 – 22, 2027

Please join me, Performance Today host Valerie Kahler, for an unforgettable spring journey through Berlin, Leipzig, Dresden and Prague—four of Europe's great musical capitals. Walk in the footsteps of Bach, Handel, Mendelssohn, Schumann, Mozart, Dvořák, Smetana and Beethoven and discover the places that inspired some of history's greatest composers. Along the way, you'll attend three of Europe's most celebrated classical music festivals: the renowned Prague Spring International Music Festival, the acclaimed Dresden Music Festival, and the prestigious Beethoven Festival in Leipzig, featuring a special performance by internationally acclaimed pianist Lang Lang. Enjoy unforgettable musical experiences, including an organ recital in the very church where J.S. Bach served for 27 years and a private concert in the former home of Robert and Clara Schumann. Savor outstanding cuisine, fascinating history, magnificent architecture, and world-class art as you travel with fellow music lovers on a journey celebrating the enduring beauty and power of classical music. Space is limited.

I hope you'll join us in Europe this spring.

Valerie Kahler, your Performance Today host

Unter den Linden, Brandenburg Gate

Your Classical Journey Begins

Day 0: Depart for Germany

Make sure to depart the U.S. no later than May 11. You may wish to arrive a day or two early so that you are rested and acclimated to the current time zone. Recent visitors have been surprised by the kaleidoscope of things to see, hear and do in Germany's capital!

Day 1, Wednesday, May 12: Guten Morgen! Arrive in Berlin

Once devastated by war and divided for generations, Berlin has transformed itself into one of Europe's most dynamic cultural capitals. Today, world-class orchestras, renowned opera companies, beautifully restored museums, and the elegant boulevard Unter den Linden showcase the city's remarkable revival. This evening, gather for a festive welcome dinner and orientation with your host, Valerie Kahler, and your Earthbound Expeditions guide. Overnight in Berlin (D)

Day 2, Thursday, May 13: Highlights of Berlin

This morning, discover the remarkable story of Berlin as we visit a preserved section of the Berlin Wall and Checkpoint Charlie, powerful reminders of the city's divided past. Continue through the historic center to Bebelplatz, where the infamous Nazi book burnings took place on May 10, 1933. Our journey through Germany's turbulent 20th-century history concludes at the moving Memorial to the Murdered Jews of Europe, adjacent to the German Parliament. We then enjoy a special visit to the historic Reichstag, followed by lunch inside the German parliament. This afternoon, pass by the striking home of the Berlin Philharmonic, one of the world's great concert halls. A tour of the Berlin Philharmonic is pending the performance schedule.

Overnight in Berlin (L)

Attend a classical performance in St. Thomas Church where Bach worked for 27 years

Day 3, Friday, May 14: Handel's birthplace Halle and Bach's Leipzig

Today we explore the rich musical heritage of two of Germany's most celebrated cultural cities—Halle, the birthplace of George Frideric Handel, and Leipzig, where Johann Sebastian Bach lived and worked for 27 years.

Our day begins with a scenic drive to Halle to visit the Handel-Haus, home to an outstanding collection of historic musical instruments, followed by a leisurely traditional German lunch. We then continue to Leipzig, one of Europe's great musical capitals.

For centuries, Leipzig has been a center of music, learning, and culture. It was home to Bach, Mendelssohn, Clara and Robert Schumann, Wagner, Grieg and Mahler, and today is still renowned for the Gewandhaus Orchestra and the nearly 800-year-old St. Thomas Boys Choir.

After checking into our hotel in Leipzig's charming Old Town, attend an evening concert at St. Thomas Church, featuring works by Bach. Overnight in Leipzig (B, L)

Day 4, Saturday, May 15: Lang Lang in Leipzig

Enjoy a guided morning walk through Leipzig's beautifully preserved old town before attending a once-in-a-lifetime piano recital by world-renowned pianist Lang Lang at the city's legendary Gewandhaus Concert Hall, featuring works by Beethoven as part of the prestigious Beethoven Festival.

Following the concert, enjoy lunch together before a free afternoon to explore Leipzig at your own pace. As an added treat, the Bach Museum and St. Thomas Church will likely be hosting afternoon and evening concerts, offering even more opportunities to experience this remarkable musical city. Overnight in Leipzig (B, L)

Day 5, Sunday, May 16: Mendelssohn and Robert and Clara Schumann

This morning we visit the beautifully preserved home of Felix Mendelssohn Bartholdy, one of the great figures of 19th-century music. As conductor of the Gewandhaus Orchestra, Mendelssohn helped establish Leipzig as one of Europe's leading musical capitals, revived interest in the music of J.S. Bach, and founded Germany's oldest conservatory, which still bears his name. Enjoy a late-morning chamber concert in this intimate setting before lunch at a nearby local restaurant.

This afternoon, we continue to the former home of Robert and Clara Schumann, where their extraordinary partnership of love, creativity and music comes vividly to life. Explore the home where they composed some of their greatest works before enjoying a special private piano recital—an unforgettable musical highlight. Overnight in Leipzig (B, L)

A note About Clara Schumann: Clara Schumann spent the first 25 years of her life in Leipzig, where she blossomed into one of Europe's greatest pianists. At just nine years old, she made her acclaimed concert debut at the Gewandhaus, launching an extraordinary international career that took her to Paris, Vienna, Copenhagen and St. Petersburg. Leipzig was also where she married composer Robert Schumann and where, in 1878, the Gewandhaus honored her with a special celebration marking the 50th anniversary of her remarkable career as a concert artist.

Spend two nights in historic Dresden –The Florence of the North

“I play the notes as they are written, but it is God who makes the music.”
— Johann Sebastian Bach

Day 6, Monday, May 17: Meissen, Saxon Wine Country and Dresden

This morning, we journey to the magnificent city of Dresden, the "Florence of the North." Along the way, we'll stop in Meissen, home to Europe's first porcelain manufactory, founded in 1710, for a guided tour and a delightful lunch. We then visit Saxony, Germany's smallest wine region, where we'll meet a local winemaker and enjoy a tasting before continuing to Dresden, our home for the next two nights. Once the splendid capital of Saxony, Dresden attracted musical giants including Handel, Bach and Wagner, and today hosts the internationally acclaimed Dresden Music Festival. Settle into our centrally located four-star hotel before enjoying the evening at leisure.

Attend at least six moving classical performances

Day 7, Tuesday, May 18: Art and Culture in Dresden

Today we discover the artistic treasures of magnificent Dresden. Our morning is devoted to the spectacular Zwinger Palace, a Baroque masterpiece commissioned by Augustus the Strong in 1719. Beautifully restored after World War II, it is now home to one of Europe's finest museum collections.

We visit the renowned Old Masters Picture Gallery, where you'll encounter Raphael's Sistine Madonna, Giorgione's Sleeping Venus, Titian's Tribute Money and masterpieces by Vermeer, Rembrandt, Rubens, Dürer, Tintoretto and Veronese.

Enjoy a free afternoon and evening to stroll, dine, or attend a performance during the Dresden Music Festival. Overnight in Dresden (B)

Day 8, Wednesday, May 19: Prague and the Prague Spring Festival

After breakfast, we journey south to the enchanting city of Prague, the beloved home of Mozart, Smetana and Dvořák. En route, we visit the beautiful Vyšehrad Cemetery, the final resting place of many of the Czech Republic's greatest composers, artists, writers, scientists and statesmen, including Smetana, Dvořák, and Alfons Mucha.

After settling into our hotel, enjoy a traditional Bohemian dinner before attending an evening performance at the world-renowned Prague Spring International Music Festival—our third and final festival of the journey. Overnight in Prague (B, D)

Immerse yourself in the music of the Prague Spring Music Festival!

Day 9, Thursday, May 20: Exploring Prague

Prague is one of Europe's most enchanting capitals. Under King of Bohemia and Holy Roman Emperor Charles IV, it blossomed into a city of soaring cathedrals, grand palaces and timeless squares. Our guided walking tour begins in the magnificent Old Town Square and continues to the Estates Theatre, where Mozart conducted The Marriage of Figaro in 1787. We then explore Prague's historic Jewish Quarter, including the Old-New Synagogue, which has welcomed worshippers for more than 700 years.

Overnight in Prague (B, L)

Day 10, Friday, May 21: Prague Castle and the Prague Spring Festival

This morning, stroll across Prague's iconic Charles Bridge before exploring the magnificent Prague Castle District, home to centuries of Czech kings, emperors and presidents. Following a festive farewell lunch, enjoy a free afternoon to wander Prague's charming streets, browse its cafés and shops, or simply soak up the city's magical atmosphere. This evening, we conclude our journey with a memorable classical performance at the world-renowned Prague Spring International Music Festival—a fitting finale to our celebration of Europe's rich musical heritage. Overnight in Prague (B, L)

Day 11, Saturday, May 22: Tour Concludes

After breakfast, your unforgettable classical journey comes to an end. You may also extend your stay to enjoy additional performances at the Prague Spring International Music Festival before returning home with a lifetime of wonderful memories. (B)
