[Los Angeles, CA] — Emmy-honored animator, best-selling author, and podcaster Donna Kay Lau, creator of the beloved Surf Soup® universe, is adding music to her storytelling legacy. Lau’s premiere track, “Buttons,” captures the playful heart of her Oscar-qualified animated short Surf Soup® Buttons and the imaginative world her fans have come to love.

As the author of over 100 books in the Surf Soup® series and host of the acclaimed Best Imagination podcast, Lau continues to expand the creative reach of her brand—bringing stories to life across books, animation, film, and now original music.

“Music is a natural extension of my storytelling,” says Lau. “With ‘Buttons,’ I wanted to create something that children, families, and educators can sing along with while connecting to the humor, heritage, and imagination of Surf Soup®.”

The song “Buttons” is now streaming on Bandcamp, alongside Lau’s growing library of Surf Soup® music, offering families and fans a chance to experience her creativity in a whole new way.
