

In my previous posts, I emphasized my background and experience to convey the message of my qualifications for City Council. With ballots about to be mailed out to registered voters, I want to share the core principles that will drive my decisions if elected.

- To preserve the character of Greenwood Village while planning for the future, balancing growth with livability. Protecting neighborhood identity, thoughtful development that fits the community, balancing growth with livability.
- To deliver a Council that not only provides leadership to the community but listens to the residents and keeps them informed. I am committed to listening to residents and maintaining open lines of communication so that your concerns are always at the forefront of City Council discussions. By focusing on collaboration and transparency, I aim to help Greenwood Village prosper without compromising what makes it special.
- To ensure that Greenwood Village remains a safe and welcoming place for families. I believe in prioritizing essential services while seeking innovative solutions to meet the needs of our growing community. By managing resources wisely, we can continue investing in infrastructure, public safety, and amenities that benefit all residents.
- To protect and enhance the open space, trails, parks and heritage that make Greenwood Village unique. My personal story (appointed to California Museum board and restoration of the Stanford mansion illustrates my deep interest in heritage and horses) all of which connects to preserving open spaces, parks and trails as well as celebrating the Village's culture.
- To manage taxpayer dollars wisely and assure approved projects meet their goals. To promote fiscal responsibility and ensure that taxpayer dollars are used efficiently, I will advocate for transparent budgeting and careful financial oversight. Oversight of big projects (like the Hickey ministry site), ensuring development aligns with stated goals, protecting residents from costly mistakes.

If you have read my personal statement, you will see from my career and experience that I can and will deliver on these principles. These guiding principles reflect my commitment to transparent governance, responsible stewardship, and thoughtful community engagement. If elected, I will actively seek input from residents and collaborate with fellow Council members to address both immediate needs and long-term priorities. My goal is to foster an inclusive environment where every voice is valued, and Greenwood Village continues to thrive for generations to come.

I hope I can count on your support when you receive your ballot.
