Hijackers of America

Shrouded in a mystery of concealment, the U. S. government, media, corporations, foundations, educational institutions, etc. are rife with people who have been engaged in unpatriotic, traitorous, subversive activities for a long time. Why? To serve the ultimate one-world government conspiracy agenda, whether they knew that aspect of it, or not! Whereby, in a 1945 treaty agreement, the United States abdicated its constitutional national authority, acquiescing to the international governing control delineated in the U. N. Charter.

To put it simply, the U. S. capitulated and replaced the Constitution, with the U. N. Charter, which can rightly be called "Communist Manifesto II". But you would never know it, listening to the President's S. O. T. U. speech last night, saying that the U. S. will never become a socialist nation, when in fact the U. N. Charter says that is exactly what we are now, and have been, technically since the 1945 UN treaty agreement. Even to call it a socialist democracy, is not the same as a true republic, which it once was!

The U. S. was purposely complicit, in the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor (which we knew in advance), and staged a false cause for entering WW2, in response to Britain's request for an ally against Germany, who was leading Britain industrially and in the maritime shipping fleet size and business, plus our own growing concern about Japan's industrial and technological successes, and attempted hegemony in southeast Asia. But, by 1945, the Congress (House and Senate) had been so propagandized by Roosevelt and Churchill's lies about Pearl Harbor, that the Senate accepted the UN Charter "without reading it".

But, lest we forget, or don't know, the Bible explicitly informs us in many passages, in effect, that all of life plays out on a stage, directed either by God or Satan, in a lifelong contest between good and evil, over which God has total power and control, and at his appointed time, will administer final judgment, and eternally prevail and rule in peace and glory on earth and in heaven, in cohabitation with all those whom he will have redeemed on earth!

Eric Arensen, a George Washington University political historian said that "a traitor is someone who sells out his country's interests." Which in our case, is exactly what the 1945 treaty signers did, by trading our national sovereignty, and independence, and freedoms, for a powerless, interdependent, slave nation membership, subject to the tyrannical rule of the U. N. New World Order! Ostensibly, under the guise of international peace and security, when in fact, it would result in a despotically controlled world, as surreptitiously planned and executed by an elitist conspiracy movement, dating back to the 1700s."

The famous saying of Navy Commodore, Oliver Hazard Perry, from the battle of Lake Erie in 1813, who said "We have met the enemy, and he (it) is us", applies today to the many government traitors who sold us out in 1945, and the present-day supporters. Of which nefarious act, there has been general ignorance and failure to prosecute and punish the culpable parties. But, as someone has wisely said, in reference to our collective irresponsibility, "We get the kind of government that we deserve."

As I have alluded to before in other comments on the subject, it defies normal human behavior to commit such a treasonous act, and then for it to be essentially covered up for more than seventy years, and for the perpetrators and participants to whatever degree go on in their lives and occupations as if they are innocent and blameless! In fact, seemingly unaware of their complicity, or agreement with the great American sellout!

"The devil made me do it" has more truth to it than most people are inclined to believe. So that the magnitude of this mysterious situation is at least paranormal, or of some supernatural cause! Logical observation and thought of the complexity of man, and animal life, and nature, and the universe, should lead anyone to the only logical conclusion, of a super-intelligent, super-human, infinitely creative and powerful being. And, nothing renders evolution more impossible, than the simple true phrase, "intelligent design", to which they ridiculously reply that the phrase is only an "unscientific" religious belief.

And, so the evolutionists hide behind the unprincipled philosophical excuse of Henry Kissinger, "that truth is not the all-important thing, but rather our perception of it". And therefore, they have even changed the fundamental meaning of science to fit the false reasoning and assumptions of their fairy tale theory! For instance, they avoid the word logic, because it clearly fits creation reasoning, and there's nothing logical or sound about the "groping in the dark" theory of evolution.

In fact, even though one definition of the word logic (which must have escaped their editing) correctly defines it as a "system of principles which underlies an art, or science", there is practically no mention of the inclusive place of logic, in other dictionary omissions of the factor. That example alone, contradicts the exclusion of logic as a necessary element of true science! So, therefore, Kissinger's denial of the importance of truth compared to perception of truth, cannot stand the test of logic on a given subject which can be explained or proved by it.

Instead, the vast majority of mankind, blindly believes in an impossible, accidental "big bang" evolutionary process as if it could produce all, or any of the designed intricacies of life, and the universe. When, instead, supernatural creation is self-evident, and any other theory of the fictitious idea of human and natural evolution, is self-contradictory! To a creationist, nature is a product or work of God, whereas to an evolutionist, nature is God, an imaginary, impersonal source and force of the universe! So, instead of believing in something scientifically plausible or provable, they religiously adopt an imaginery concept.

And, on that self-evident level, God and regrettably Satan, can influence and cause man's actions according to their supernatural wills, whether we know it, or not. God for good, rightly understood, and Satan for evil. Otherwise, there is no logical or conceivable human explanation for all of the extreme actions in question. It is like actors forced to follow a script, beyond their natural understanding, ability, or control.

All of the seeming mystery ties in to the subversive international conspiracy of the New World Order (NWO) master plan to disorganize and rob nations of their sovereignty, solvency, independence, industrial success, and national and personal freedoms and opportunities.

There certainly is no rational justification for why supposedly responsible people in various positions and occupations in this country, with its historically successful capitalist system, and unlimited opportunities and freedoms, would opt for a socialist, or communist government and economy--which has proven to be a failure in the forty or so countries which have operated in the totalitarian, centralized, planned and controlled captive societies in the world's history!

Instead of being the representative republic system of government that it was designed and established to be, our government has largely functioned in effect as an autonomous decision-making political body, independent of citizens' wills, or input. And, has increasingly employed propaganda, disinformation, and any other means of deceiving the public about its real actions; especially of international effect, i.e. wars, etc.

As I have cited before, a former director of the CIA, William Casey, stated that "We will know that our disinformation service is working, when the public believes what we have told them." And another example of many, is when George H. W. Bush said to secretary Sue Mclendon, probably in reference to promotion of the New World Order conspiracy that, "If people knew what we are doing, they would run us out of office, and chase us down the street."

Is that part of his legacy, or more of a stigma, if it was exposed and publically known? How does a national leader who is involved in a traitorous activity, continue in the highest office in the land, and be commemorated as a loyal and worthy presidential servant of the people?

How can so many proclaimed, sworn Constitutionalist members of government continue to lead double lives, as "wolves in sheep's clothing", working to undermine the country, and yet not be exposed, and held to account for their insidious unpatriotic actions and affiliations? That is, they hide their globalist identities, and yet are assumed to be faithful nationalists?

If anyone thinks that Satan isn't actively, if surreptitiously building his kingdom, as he threatened against God, consider for one thing how little discussion there is in government, and even on conservative talk shows of the one-world government conspiracy. Ask a question about it, and either the receptionist or talk show host will immediately tell you that they are not interested in any particular conspiracy "theories", as if the ideas are ridiculous, or foolish. These are the same people who claim to be totally for the 1st Amendment free speech privilege.

Which applies to all opinions, whether favorable or not, agreeable or disagreeable, the same freedom of expression should be available to everyone! Public discourse cannot be arbitrarily limited or disallowed. The free exchange of ideas and beliefs should be welcome, and unrestricted except for some imposed restraint on agreeable moral grounds, or abusive attacks, and certain national security protections.

It is not common knowledge, but many of these disloyal statesmen, and others belong to secret, evil societies, like the Skull & Bones Society of Harvard, and Bohemian Grove. They take blood oaths, and follow secretive requirements, swearing allegiance, not to God, but to Satan! Even the oaths by which they swear to uphold the U. S. Constitution are not binding to them, because they are indoctrinated with overruling Satanic worship and obedience to his false teachings. And, even as the Bible says, "No man can serve two masters".

Recalling the quote I cited from Eric Arensen, a GWU professor, who said that "a traitor is someone who sells out his country's interests", a particular organization fits the mold: the "Project for a New American Century" (PNAC), which has since been disbanded as such, and boldly re-named the "Foreign Policy Initiative", as if it has governmental authority, which, in effect, it does!

The PNAC, or the FPI, supports and pushes imperialistic exploitation of resources. along with the CIA, to further multinational business interests, through the use of preemptive military attacks, which necessitates a huge budget at the expense of social programs, and infrastructure maintenance and construction. The deteriorating effect of which is evident throughout the country!

The Real News Network, TRNN, stated the NWO-connected movement as, "The assertion of military might around the globe." A 1998 letter from PNAC to Pres. Clinton urged him to invade Iraq to depose Saddam Hussein. Quoted from the website "Spingola Speaks" (along with some of the other information).

The Dept. of Defense has adopted the PNAC program "for world domination through pervasive warfare." To anybody that is awake and alert, even if previously unaware, that information ought to have serious impact! A one-word description of that problem is "infiltration".

Again, from Spingola Speaks, "Promoters of American imperialism, and 'Full-Spectrum' dominance is funded by the Sara Scaife Foundation, the John M. Olin Foundation, and the Bradley Foundation."

These are examples of the entrenched "neocon war hawk" mentality and guiding doctrine for much of our national military action in the world. "A major focus of our military policy, long before the 9/11/01 manufactured false flag, or new "Pearl Harbor" attack, was the planned invasion of Iraq".

If anyone doubts, or is uninformed about the foregoing, read the revealing exposes of creditable authors like William Jasper ("The UN Exposed"), Deanna Spingola ("Spingola Speaks" website), Alex Jones website, Thomas Eddlem ("Exposing the UN"), and even the revealing comments of David Rockefeller himself, a major NWO promoter. Also read UN Agenda 21, radical world changes to be made, including genocidal global "sustainable" population control at approximately 500 million people.

Some names associated with the underground NWO conspiracy movement are:

David Rockefeller, Irving Kristol, Bill Kristol, G. H. W. Bush, G. W. Bush, Jeb Bush, Cordell Hull, Allen and John Foster Dulles, Richard Helms, William Colby, Lyman Lemnitzer, Harry Truman, William Casey, Henry Kissinger, Dwight Eisenhower, James Warburg, Jacob Schiff, McGeorge and William P. Bundy, Dr. Richard Day, Zbigniew Brzezinski, William H. Taft, Henry Cabot Lodge, Jimmy Carter, Paul Volker, Alan Greenspan, Ronald Reagan, Oliver W. Holmes, and many others. .

In the above listing, certain ones are more notable, and involved than others. Especially, David Rockefeller, one of the four Rockefellers, principal activists, financially and operatively, being the American equivalent of the English Rothschild family, godfathers of the one-world movement.

Irving Kristol was the founder of the neoconservative, warhawk imperialism promoters. His son, Bill Kristol, publisher of the "Weekly Standard" magazine, is a main conspirator in the prevalent neocon activity.

George Bush, senior, was a strong advocate of the NWO ideology, having given highly partisan speeches to Congress, etc.

in his tenure as president.

Henry Kissinger, a card-carrying communist, David Rockefeller agent, who traitorously served in several government positions, is a strong participant in the NWO conspiracy.

With a self-absorbed sense of intellectual superiority, he has maintained a heartless, elitist philosophy of aspiring to help establish a world-controlling oligarchy. He said that "the issues (government matters) are too important to be left to the voters", a great majority of whom he considered to be "useless eaters" or consumers of too much of the world's resources.

Typical of his arrogant ego, he said, even in the presence of Gen. Haig, that "Military men are just dumb, stupid animals to be used as pawns in foreign policy." Tell that to the millions of admirers and respecters of George Washington! And, reflecting his inherent megalomaniacal ambition, Kissinger stated that "Power is the ultimate aphrodisiac."

An acknowledged genocidist (drastic population reduction advocate), and infamous war criminal, Kissinger ironically won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1973. Considering his evil machinations and influence in government decision-making, it is right to say that he functioned highly effectively as a "Devil's Decoy". or "Dupe". And yet, he is consulted as a guest commentator on conservative TV shows, and other media and government circles, as if he is a reliable, respected, patriotic confidant and advisor. Go figure!

Ronald Reagan, whether he half-realized what he was doing or not, in 1985 signed onto the Soviet "school to work" training program with Mikhail Gorbachev. I cannot believe that Reagan's action was not a designed and intentional plan, that he agreed to.

How could such a radical change that was developing in our education system not be fully understood by a President of the U. S.? Reagan had capable advisors, like Ed Meese, but who failed to do the right thing himself, regarding resisting or opposing the Soviet school training decision. And, since he failed to remind Reagan of his intention to meet with Charlotte Iserbyt ( a special advisor in the Dept. of Educ.) about a letter she had written to him, it is more than doubtful that he intended to.

And, there were other negative things done by Reagan that were significant. But, nothing will outrank the damage yet to be realized from adopting the Soviet "school to work" training system! If, and when it is ever fully integrated, it will be the death knell of true academic education, and ultimate achievement levels historically realized.

In brief, the Soviet teaching (training) system is based on the "B. F. Skinner" animal training techniques, which C. S. Lewis called a concept so deficient and radical that he made the following pronouncement, "When training beats education, civilization dies".

A quote from Carnegie Institute, stated that its mission was "To use the schools to change America's capitalist government and economic system to a planned and controlled communist political system and economy". Charlotte Iserbyt, a reputable and efficient advocate and defendant of traditional education, previously mentioned, referred to the U. S. Dept of Education in that period as "A Marxist research curriculum, and dissemination factory". She tried unsuccessfully to inform Reagan of the serious deficiencies and corruption in the Education Department, but was blocked by some of his associates, especially Ed Meese, and T. H. Bell, a communist DOE official.

The Common Core school curricula concept widely used in America today, is similar "Outcome Based Education", which employs a limited lock-step uniform training system, to develop the workforce required, mainly to serve the financial, and material needs and desires of a planned NWO elitist ruling oligarchy, and their selective minions.

Dwight Eisenhower. No one's life shows how much Washington hides the truth about many of our elected officials, more than Eisenhower's. Regarding Eisenhower's German death camps, he commented to someone of his staff, "God, I hate the Germans, further calling them beasts. It pains me to recount some of Eisenhower's cruel thinking and inhumane actions against the German soldiers, and the fact that his conduct in the death camps should have disqualified him from any congressional or other governmental position. Instead he should have been tried and prosecuted for his disobedience to authority, and unconscionable abusive treatment of the German prisoners.

First of all, it shows how much damage that misplaced, irrational hatred can do when it is out of control. Why would Eisenhower blame and horribly punish the German soldiers, when they like any country's soldiers were obeying their authorities, besides naturally thinking they were avenging the attacks against them by the British and Americans, when it was their duty to protect and defend their country?

Secondly, what justifies the soldiers imprisonment, instead of being released from capture, and being free to go , when the war was over? Especially when captives of Britain and France were permitted to leave and return to their homes! The only reason for imprisoning the German soldiers after the war, must have been to inflict more revenge against them, for which is Eisenhower was the guilty culprit, as the ETO commanding general.

Sorry, if anyone is offended by those words, but the naked truth must be spoken about the inhumane, savage treatment of German soldiers, who, after all, were technically innocent "human beings", who had just as much right to continue living as free inhabitants of their country, as anybody else!

The sordid picture of the cruel treatment of the Germans is hard to believe. The barbaric internment facilities and treatment were all at the hands of General Eisenhower! They are rightly called the "Eisenhower Death Camps", showing his intention to abuse and debase, and allow the prisoners to die, not simply to intern them. This is especially true, because it was done in disobedience and violation of the Geneva Conventions, as well as the Uniform Code of Military Justice of the U. S.

The records show that Eisenhower ignored, or countermanded orders from his superiors as to how much rations, and other supplies the prisoners were supposed to receive. The deplorable conditions that existed in the camps were typical, even though Eisenhower promised at a Paris speech in 1945, to honor the Geneva Conventions with regard to humane treatment of prisoners.

Within days he signed an order establishing a deathly DEF (Disarmed Enemy Forces) classification for all prisoners--against the Geneva Conventions. Also, Churchill, Stalin, and Roosevelt agreed to implement the Morgenthau Plan, which would destroy all German industry--another decision against the Geneva Conventions provisions.

Quoted from Spingola Speaks, "There were about 200 additional barbed wire enclosed camps in Germany that incarcerated between four and five million individuals by June 1945. In flagrant disregard of the Geneva Conventions, the camps lacked even the barest facilities found in other camps: barracks, laboratories, camp kitchens, infirmaries, and latrines.

In the absence of latrines, crowded inmates standing almost shoulder to shoulder, by necessity, often relieved themselves where they stood--in a growing quagmire of putrid mud. Latrines (ditches) where available, were death traps for those who slipped . Food, water and shelter, basic human necessities, were mostly unavailable in these camps, although there were sufficient supplies available (including food, etc. supplied by the Red Cross, refused by the Eisenhower camps), and means could be made available to install other services In fact, the prisoners were supposed to receive the same level of provisions and human necessities as free American soldiers.

These were not German camps, but American camps, supervised by Eisenhower, where thousands of ordinary soldiers, ignorant of their government's atrocities, ultimately starved and died (also of disease, lack of medical care, etc.). Americans were not outraged by the atrocities committed in these camps, because they were completely ignored by the U. S. media, then and now, subsidized and sanitized in history books produced by the West German Foreign Office, which, under the direction of Willy Brandt provided a long-term coverup of the brutalities.

After the war, and unknown to many outside of Germany, more than fifteen million Germans were driven from their homes in Central and Eastern Europe. These were trusting civilians who accommodated their tyrannical governments. The Geneva Conventions are very clear on the treatment of military prisoners.

The agreement signed by most major countries on July 27, 1929 purportedly established humane treatment of enemies during WWII, and other wars. Apparently the Geneva Conventions meant little to the particular military leaders in charge. Inhumane treatment at the hands of Germans or Americans is deplorable, thus prohibited, and punishable. The irony of which is that Eisenhower and the others in charge deserved punishment for the abuse and cruel treatment themselves, that they put the prisoners through.

It should be unquestionable not to think that such wretched conduct by an army general, should certainly disqualify him from any honorable government position--or recognition and commendation for the positive service he performed, but deserves instead to be classified as dishonorable and disgraceful. Deanna Spingola rightly labeled this and other parts of her commentary on the subject as, "Criminals and their Camps".

There are many more participants in the activities that connect to, and promote the underground NWO movement under the UN, that could be included in this commentary, but I will describe one case of a double life of a current TV personality who appears to be doing a creditable service for our country's news interests, but who has had, if not still, a traitorous neoconservative other side of his life!

That is Tucker Carlson, who heads a Fox News program, "Tucker Carlson Tonight". He was a member of the PNAC (Project of a New American Century), which has since disbanded as such, but whose war hawk ideology continues, even adopted as the operating principles of the Dept. of Defense.

Carlson was a contributor to the Weekly Standard, neocon journal, along with Chas. Krauthammer, Brit Hume, and Robert Kagan (PNAC co-founder), whose writings were geared to the oneworld government movement. The magazine was managed by Bill Kristol and Fred Barnes.

A quick list of the PNAC/DOD objectives is:

1. Remake America in the image of an imperialistic nation, prepared for global domination.
2. Remake other nations into the socialistic democracy* that many people seem to think we have--while abandoning our constitution.
3. They believe we should spend more for defense.
4. They believe in intervention--hence, the abandonment of the more Christian isolationist mentality of the founding fathers.
5. Infiltrate and hold high, often unelected government positions.

Of the 25 signatories to the PNAC, 68% belong to the Council of Foreign Relations, whose ultimate goal is fulfillment of the New World Order conspiracy!

*Item 2 above contains what could be a worthy goal: a free nation movement. That is, to help socialist/communist countries to become a capitalist democracy, or republic. But, with no imperialist, NWO motive by the U. S. involved. In other words, help those countries strive for their own sovereignty and independence, that many of them must have once had. Which movement would eventually back them out of UN authority and control.

Of course, the U. S. government must first see, and do whatever it would take to extricate ourselves from surrender to UN/NWO one-world tyrannical control, under the UN Charter, that we contractually, and traitorously sold out to in the 1945 treaty agreement with the UN.

As bad as Eisenhower's independent, unauthorized barbaric actions taken against German prisoners was, so too are many if not most of our government's decisions made without consideration of the American citizens' right to know, and for public opinion to be consulted and seriously taken into account. In a republic form of government, who is supposed to be working for who?

President Trump emphatically said in his State of the Union Address, Tuesday, Feb. 5 that "we (the United States) will never become a socialist nation", but it is evident that in many ways, we have developed into more of a socialist, than a peoples' republic, and our capitulation to the UN Charter practically etches the transformation in stone! Our leaders must wake up and see the self-inflicted trap we are in, and do whatever it takes to get us out of the UN, and our powerless slave nation status!

Thankfully, we still have our gun ownership rights, so that if it takes an armed revolution, that may be the solution, which our constitution provides us with, in the event of a forcible attempt to dispossess us of our firearms protection.

We have been put into an impending existential national and personal threatening situation, that cannot continue to hang over our heads like a Damocles sword, without serious attention and corresponding action being taken to extricate us out of the documental quagmire, to recover and restore our national sovereignty, independence, and freedoms, which we officially lost in the 1945 treaty capitulation to UN Charter control. And, for which the UN says it will actively exercise its reign of authority and control in 2025.

Note: Many of the quotations, and much of the information in this commentary has been learned from the website, Spingola Speaks, a very knowledgeable, well researched and reliable source of detailed accounts of war-related political American history, and various other subjects.
