

Rosalba Savage, MSW, Chief Executive Officer and President

Rosalba “Rosie” Savage is a powerful force for systemic reform, a dedicated advocate for Military Sexual Trauma (MST) survivors, and a champion for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI). With a Master’s in Social Work from Columbia University and ongoing studies in organizational psychology at Harvard University, she brings deep expertise to her work in policy, education, and leadership.

As a veteran and former Co-Chair of Columbia’s Commission on Diversity, Rosie has led groundbreaking initiatives to empower BIPOC communities, reform institutions, and drive trauma-informed leadership.

Her work in public speaking, consulting, and program development has earned her multiple accolades, including two Educator of the Year awards and the prestigious Bill Campbell Leadership Award.

Committed to breaking cycles of intergenerational trauma and addressing institutional betrayal, Rosie’s survivor-centered advocacy is paving the way for meaningful, lasting change.
