

RTLS Health Solutions Group Managed Services

A hospital needs to maximize cost-savings wherever possible. You have already made an investment in RTLS to help maximize the cost-saving process. Over time, maintaining that system for optimal performance can be a challenge. In addition, many hospitals don't have the expertise to capture analytics which will drive ROI.

RTLS Health Solutions Group Managed Services can help with both of these vital needs. Over time, required RTLS maintenance often gets put off, or is overlooked entirely, which results in dead batteries. The consequence of this can have a great impact on patient care. Keeping Temperature NIST certifications current and associated to the correct temperature policy across hundreds of refrigerators/freezers can be very challenging. Failure to do so could cost regulatory fines, or thousands of dollars in lost medications.

A neglected Real Time Location System (RTLS) may only compound the frustration, as asset tags lose visibility, and the temperature program becomes unreliable.

That's where RTLS Health Solutions can help.

We will make sure your RTLS is up-to-date and functioning, properly associated and maintained, to deliver the results you originally expected.

The result - equipment is located, maintenance is efficiently handled, and you are now ready to get the next level of value from your investment.

We provide analytics to establish ROI and find savings opportunities, through our framework model called TRUST:
