

Theory of Change

Studies have shown that over 60% of parolees are rearrested within three years of release from prison; additionally, over 75% are back in prison within five years of release. The Reality is, without support, reentry sets people up to fail. That is why Your Options Unlimited offers services for formerly incarcerated persons as they navigate reentry.

At Your Options Unlimited, we firmly believe that equipping individuals impacted by incarceration with both spiritual guidance and access to higher education, as well as empowering them with essential life skills, which can be instrumental in transforming them into productive members of society and in helping them maintain lawful conduct following their release.

At Y.O.U, we build one-on-one relationships providing safe spaces for conversation, encouragement, and troubleshooting, often facilitated by the formerly incarcerated who have succeeded in reentry.
