TRIP OVERVIEW

This 06-day Cofee and Birds

Four coffee farms, different locations, sizes, and management.
Prepare your camera and binoculars.

Day 1. Arrival Day. Meet and greet at Palmerola Airport (XPL airport code). Transfer to Marcala (2 hrs drive). After check-in to our hotel, we will have time for birding at hotel trails.

Day 2. Visit a coffee farm that works with COMSA. There they have the coffee cupping lab. COMSA, short name after short for “Café Orgánico Marcala Sociedad Anónima” is a coffee-growing co-operative in the Marcala region. They specialize in organic coffee production, prioritizing environmentally friendly farming practices and avoiding synthetic pesticides or fertilizers. Afternoon we will visit another coffee farm called “Arte y Cafe”, which is family-owned.

Day 3. Very early we will visit and bird at “Reserva El Jilguero” an important water-producing area with natural forest with more than 200 species. In the afternoon, we could visit a dry pine-oak forest called Las Queseras with 145 species.

Day 4. This day will visit, Finca San Pablo, established since 1915, which offers a unique perspective on coffee. Being one of the first coffee farms in Marcala. It is an excellent place to learn about the history of coffee in Marcala while birding around. In the afternoon we will continue to our next destination, for the next one or two nights at Siguatepeque.

Day 5. Explore Bosque Dorado Nature Lodge (Finca Mercedes), at 1200 masl, recently declared as Bird Sanctuary. They manage a coffee micro-batch. They also have some natural forest next to Reserva Bilogica Montecillos. After lunch, we could visit another coffee farm called La Porra.

Day 6. Transfer to the airport.
