The following AI Certified bulls are straight Butler Breeding. I have grouped them by their sub-Families within the Butler Bloodline. We will start with Bevo and his progeny. I have also added a few notes and reference photos.

Bevo sired the Longhorn industry's first 60" horn bull, Classic. Bevo also produced several other note worthy sons but his two most famous ones were Classic and Monarch 103 (measured in the upper 50's). Bevo's semen was syndicated for 1 million and the syndicate hosted the Bevo Syndicate Sale. His son Classic was the result of his mating with the great Butler cow, Beauty. His son Monarch was the result of linebreeding when Bevo was mated to Lady Butler who was by Bevo and out of Beauty. Bevo came out of the breeding program of Milby Butler the founder of the Butler Bloodline of Longhorn cattle. Semen is still available.

Butler Boy was also syndicated. He produced a daughter Little Brownie who is still having an impact on the Butler bloodline today. Semen is available call me (409)381-0616. Dam shown below.

Jumbo Horns was another note worthy son of Bevo. He was used in several well known and respected breeding programs back in the 1980's. I have found Jumbo Horns to be a carrier of the twist horn gene. I believe that it is coming from his dam's side of the pedigree. We have a granddaughter of Jumbo Horns that has triple twist horns. I have been using him in order to preserve the tight twist horn genetics that we are losing due to the popular belief that a weanling should have straight out horn that is passed the end of the ears in length by weaning. I have AI and ET calves by him and several out of our triple twist horn cows. Limited amounts of semen can still be found. There is a new generation of sons and daughters coming up to help keep the twist in our cattle.

He crossed well with Mr. Kelsey's Texas Ranger and WR cattle. Back in the 1980's the cross of the Butler bloodline with the WR bloodline was considered "the magic cross". This cross produced many of the breed's first 60" horn cattle. See Dam below.

Classic was the first bull in the Longhorn industry to record a tip-to-tip horn measurement of over 60". He was also one of the first Longhorn bulls to be syndicated for 1 million dollars. Back in the early 80's Classic and his sons were as popular as Hunt's Command Respect and his son are today. Classic sired many highly valued offspring. He produced a large number of offspring that measured 55"-60" out of females that only measured in the 40" range. Some of Classic's best offspring were produce when he was mated to the great Butler cow Rose Red. A number of today's big horn animals trace back to Classic. Semen on Classic can still be found.

Dixie Hunter is one of the top son's of Classic and Rose Red. In the mid 80' Dixie Hunter was sold at private treaty for a reported ($75,000) industry record price. He measure near the 60" mark. He consistently produced offspring with good horn growth as well as good conformation. The mating of Dixie Hunter and the great Butler cow, FM Graves 102 produce some of his most sought after offspring with embryo pregnancies from this pairing selling for $9,000 and up. Today there are numerous big horn cattle that trace back to Dixie Hunter. A lot of these animals are from the breeding programs Johnnie Hoffman, Ace Cattle Co. and Owen McGill. A limited amount of Dixie Hunter semen can still be found and is being used today. I am using his semen in several programs.

Classic Dispatcher is an embryo transfer full brother to Dixie Hunter. He was not promoted or used as heavily as his older brothers, Dixie Hunter and Dixie Rebel but did seem to be a good and consistent producer much like that of his entire family. Just like most all of his full brothers and sisters he sold as a baby in excess of $10,000. What made the calves from this mating so valuable was not only being sired by the breed's first 60 plus inch horn bull but being out of one of the great cows of the breed, Rose Red. I was told by longtime breeder J.W. Isaacs that when you are looking at a herd sire that you are considering using be sure to look at his dam and her dam. If you don't like those females you should probably pass on the bull.

Medicine Man is by Ace's Mojo and out of the legendary FM Graves 102 which makes him a full brother to Ace's Black Magic Man. Santana's dam comes from the heart of the F.M. Graves herd with Dode's Boy and Classey Carmon a Classic daughter going back to Graves 68. Santana produces total package offspring with frame, color and horn. Several of which have also been show champions. He has produced several daughters that measure in the 70's tip-to-tip. FM Graves 102 shown below.

Little Ace Lobo is a half brother to the great Delta Rockett cow who was a high seller the two times that she sold at auction, bring $22,000 and $19,000 when these kind of prices were not common place. Their dam is a daughter of the Legendry FM Graves 102 who was a super produce that sold for $89,000 back in the 80'. His grand dam on the top, Alicia of 83 is another top female out of a consistently top producing family. Half sister, Delta Rockette shown below.

Rattlesnake and Ace's Mojo are the only ones AI certified and semen on them is very limited and hard to find. You will be seeing more of his offspring in the near future. Conquistador is directly from the herd of Milby Butler. He was an unusual multi colored bull. Much like Man O' War he produced offspring that were solid producers and generally out produced themselves. He produced two straight Butler sons that are AI certified, Dode's Boy and Colorado Cowboy. Dode's Boy was used in FM Graves' herd with great success on Classic and Monarch daughters. This cross resulted in offspring that usually had lots of color and more frame. Colorado Cowboy sired GF G-Man who was one of the first 70 plus inch horn bulls in the breed. The Conquistador bloodline also crossed well with the Bold Ruler bloodline. Limited semen is available but at a high price.

In these programs he produced numerous show and futurity winners. His most noteworthy son is GF G-Man who was one of the first 70 inch horn bulls in the breed. Colorado Cowboy generally produces colorful offspring with good frame. He can produce extra skin in the dewlap and navel area. Dam pictured below.

Superior did sire several noteworthy straight Butler sons, the best known is Superior Dot, who continued his sires horn producing ways. VJ Tommie (aka Unlimited) is one of the most popular Butler bulls of today. He is the result of combining the Butler genetics of the Classic, Partlow and Superior lines. His dam was one of the high-selling lots at one of the first Butler Breeders Sales. Tommie has proven himself to be a good cross on a number of the other Butler sub-families as well as crossing well on blend pedigreed cattle. He has continued to pass the traits of larger frame and bone of his grand-sire, Superior. He has produced numerous top quality sons and has three straight Butler sons that are AI certified. She was also TLBAA's 1985 Grand Champion Cow. Anita was also a great producer, with several daughters that measured in the 60" range. She would end up measure almost 70 when she died. Ten's Comealong is sired by Pappy L's best known Butler son, He's A Ten. His dam is a half sister to Pappy L by Thomas. Both these bulls represent the Lepper family very well.
