DIRECTOR'S NOTE

Hello everyone, and welcome to Arendelle!

When we selected Frozen for this season, we were drawn to its exploration of identity and the bonds of family (and the songs of course!). It is a story that reminds us that our 'flaws' are often our greatest strengths, provided we have the courage to embrace them. Theater is a place where every student can find a family that accepts them exactly as they are. We hope that tonight, as you watch these characters learn to embrace their own unique powers, you feel a bit of that same magic and belonging.

I'm incredibly proud of the dedication and passion this cast and crew have poured into this production. Their commitment to bringing these characters to life has been truly inspiring. It's impossible for me to thank every person who had a hand in making this show happen, but my heartfelt gratitude extends to some of the following people, without whom the show would not be possible: Jen Lloyd, Jeff Kenton, Danielle Gover, Michael Arden, and Bill Toscano. My thoughts are also with my grandfather, Joe Verga, who passed away earlier this year. A lover of the theater and his family, he was a faithful audience member at B-CC and a big encouragement in my life.

Thank you for supporting the arts and our incredible students, and we hope to see you at the next one!

Mr. Jake Verga

They'd like to thank their family and their wonderful crew. (Good luck next year guys!!)

Ivy LoCicero (Lights) is excited to be part of the lights crew for Frozen. She recently worked as part of the light crew for Macbeth. She has been part of the crew for many productions at Silver Creek. She wants to thank her crew members, friends, family, and teachers for their support.

Colin Sward (Lights) is very excited to be part of lights crew for the first time ever. He has done 6 shows before in Middle School, and this is his first show in High School. He would like to thank my dog for always being there when he gets home.
