PRO TIP OF THE DAY: Consistency Wins

Want to move up to the next level? Don't just practice your shots – practice executing them consistently.

Hitting a great shot once is nice. Being able to hit it over and over, with control and intention, is what makes it a weapon.

- Drill with purpose.
- Focus on technique and placement.
- Build repetition.
- Learn to execute under pressure.

The goal isn't to hit the flashiest shot. It's to develop shots you can trust when the game is on the line. Put in the reps. Build confidence. Consistency is what turns practice into progress.
