This Month's Insight: Childhood's End

I have always known of the mural outside of the Childhood's End Gallery. A lot of life experiences happened around that mural. A dream come true has happened as I have been allowed to be a featured artist in that gallery, being able to show and sell my Damascus culinary knives.

Each knife comes with oil, care instructions, and free sharpening.

You can purchase Damascus culinary knives at the Childhood's End Gallery, or visit the Olympia Farmers Market for mono steel knives, cutting boards, kitchen utensils, and other kitchen items.

Since 1971, Childhood's End Gallery has welcomed visitors to explore exceptional fine art and American craft. Nestled along the Olympia waterfront in the historic Wright Building (1908) at the gateway to downtown*, we represent hundreds of American artists and artisans. Inside, you'll find a thoughtfully curated mix of functional and decorative works, art glass, ceramics, woodwork, metalwork, and jewelry, alongside a wide selection of fine art and reproductions. We invite you to visit, linger, and discover the creativity that defines our gallery and community.
