Legacy of Love: Fostering Children

Have you ever thought about becoming a foster parent?

Does your heart ache to think of the many children that are awaiting a safe and loving home?

This may be your legacy of love, providing care and support to children and families in need.

Written by a foster and adoptive mom, the author shares her real-world experiences and transforms them into tools for the would-be foster or adoptive parent.

Legacy of Love merges a memoir style of writing with useful facts about the foster care world.

Quotes

○ DR. JOHN DEGARMO,
Founder/Director of The Foster Care Institute

“In today’s world, 5 million children experience domestic violence or abuse in their homes each year. Legacy of Love, by Dusti Stark, is an important book as it brings awareness to the plight of children in crisis. I recommend it to anyone who wants to help children.”

○ SARA GELSER BLOUIN, Oregon State Senator

“It is an important book, and really gets at the heart of so many things. I love the way Dusti demonstrates grace and compassion throughout the book, the way she challenges the reader to self-compassion and self-care, and the balance she strikes between keeping focused on the mission and also setting clear boundaries. I appreciate the very real and poignant focus on sibling relationships and her candid acknowledgement of her own trauma and growth.”

○ CHERYL WILLIAMS, Founder – Fundamentals For Foster Care

“What a diverse and informative perspective she has in the foster care realm!”

○ ALLISON HUTCHESON, Oregon

““Ms. Stark’s content is spot on as she’s thoughtful, introspective, and full of hope through the sorrow. I love it! Well done!”

○ TYLER GOENS, Pastor

““I think this book will be really helpful for those involved or looking to be involved in foster care or for those who are just interested in learning more about it.”
