

Privacy Policy

At McCosker Financial Solutions, we are committed to protecting the privacy and confidentiality of our clients' personal and financial information. We recognise the importance of safeguarding your data and adhere to the obligations set out under the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) when collecting, using, disclosing, and storing personal information.

We collect personal and business information that is necessary to provide our professional services. This information may be obtained directly from you, through our website or communication channels, or via authorised third parties, such as your accountant or government agencies, and may only be shared with your consent.

The information we collect is used to deliver our services effectively, ensure compliance with applicable laws and regulations, and maintain accurate communication and recordkeeping. During the course of providing our services, we may disclose personal information to trusted third-party providers, such as accounting software platforms and regulatory authorities such as ATO, where required. We do not sell or rent personal information to any third party under any circumstances.

McCosker Financial Solutions strictly follow privacy laws to ensure your information is stored securely and protected from unauthorised access, misuse, loss, or disclosure. Our systems and practices are designed to maintain the confidentiality and integrity of the information we handle. We also ensure that our staff and service providers are aware of and comply with our privacy obligations.

You have the right to request access to your personal information and to seek correction if the information we hold is inaccurate, incomplete, or outdated. Requests can be made by contacting us directly using our details. We aim to respond to all privacy-related enquiries in a timely and transparent manner.

When you visit our website, certain information may be collected automatically through the use of cookies and/ or similar technologies. This helps us enhance your user experience and monitor site performance. You can manage your preferences by adjusting your browser settings.

This Privacy Policy may be updated periodically to reflect changes in our operations or legal requirements. The most current version will always be available on our website. If you have any questions or concerns about this Privacy Policy, or if you wish to access or update your personal information, please contact us.
