

HOW YOU CAN HELP WITH PERSONAL WRITING

In personal writing, your child should write a personal letter, story, diary or report about something he or she has done. For example, your child might write a thank you letter or an account about somewhere he or she has visited or something he or she has done or made.

In a personal report, your child could write about a project or topic. They should include their own opinions on the topic e.g. "I think I would like to live in Roman times."

- * Talk about your child's thoughts and feelings.
- * Encourage your child to proof read their writing carefully.
- * Use plenty of praise and encouragement.
- * Make writing fun. Do some writing together!

Helping with Writing

It's good to know how I can help with writing. I can see a real improvement.

Writing together really helps me and I like it when I hear my writing is good.

We arrived at Any Primary School and I was greeted by my best friend, we had been at playgroup together. We said goodbye to our mums and went inside feeling a bit frightened of all the older children.

Mrs Smith was my teacher at the time and she introduced me to my first reading book. It was called Fred and the Big Sandwich, it was really fun and introduced me to one of my first hobbies -reading.

I also learned to count to ten and to add. It is quite strange when I think back to those early years when I can now do long multiplication and division and solve complicated maths problems. I've come a long way!

My first school trip was to Keilder Owl Park. I was thrilled to be going there as I had a real fascination for owls. However, I did not like seeing the eagle as it had sharp claws and a hooked beak. I can vaguely remember trying to hide behind my friends at that moment.

I spent my first year at school experiencing a mixture of feelings. Sometimes I was really excited to be discovering lots of new things and other times I was scared by the older pupils. However, over time my confidence grew and.....
