

Jaemellah Kemp

Jaemellah Kemp is a Georgia native schooled in the greater Washington, DC area. She is a proud mother of one son, Brandein Krystopher.

Ms. Kemp holds an associate's degree in Business Administration and bachelors in Business Management from the University of Phoenix. She obtained her masters in Nonprofit & Association Management from University of Maryland University College (UMUC) May 2014.

Ms. Kemp served as has joined the UMUC alumni association, recorded a UMUC My Moments YouTube video and commercial that aired regionally, and received the 2015 Achiever's Award at UMUC's 25th Annual Alumni Awards in June 2015. In June 2015, she was appointed to UMUC's Board of Directors as the Programming Committee, Vice President. Ms. Kemp was spotlighted in 2018 as a University System of Maryland (USM) entrepreneur at the USM Chancellor's home for her leadership through IT TAKES TWO, INC and its impact on local communities.

Ms. Kemp's personal struggles as a single parent and sincere willingness to help others led to the birth of IT TAKES TWO, INC in 2012 where the cornerstone of the organization is its Tools for Success Scholarship. To date, 19 scholarships totaling $6,175 have been awarded to local youth.

Her philanthropic and business acumen is still far reaching through her nonprofit start up consulting firm, Jaemellah Kemp Consulting, LLC, that launched in May 2014. Ms. Kemp uses her classroom teaching and daily experiences as a nonprofit founder to help community minded entrepreneurs to launch sustainable nonprofit organizations. To date, she has launched over 26 nonprofits that provide services to youth, educators, domestic violence victims, youth workforce development, and promote education and literacy.

"We can do more together. IT truly does TAKE TWO."
