At www.RealWorkFromHomeJobsAndBusinessOpportunities.com, like most online businesses today we use cookies to make your overall experience on our Website better. Specifically, we use cookies to:

- Store information for the time you are on the Website (called "Session Cookies")
- Store information to recognize your browser or device each time you visit (called "Persistent Cookies")
- Analyze your behavior on our Website, so we can continue to improve what we offer
- Allow others to advertise on our Website or track information about you to improve how and what we are advertising to you

By using our Website or any of our services, you consent to our use of cookies. This Cookies Policy will explain what cookies are, how we use them, and what your rights are in relation to our use of cookies. We'll also discuss our third-party cookies and what they mean for you.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small files that are placed on your device to store information. Specifically, cookies are small strings of text used to store information that may concern you, your behavior on the web, your preferences, or your device. Cookies are mainly used to adapt the operation of the Website to your expectations, offering a more personalized browsing experience and memorizing the choices you made previously.

There are various types of cookies. Cookies do not record or store any personal data from your device.

How we use cookies

Technical cookies, which can also sometimes be called HTML cookies, are used for navigation and to facilitate your access to and use of the site. They are necessary for the transmission of communications on the network or to supply services requested by you. The use of technical cookies allows the safe and efficient use of the Website.

You can manage or request the general deactivation or cancelation of cookies through your browser. If you do this though, please be advised this action might slow down or prevent access to some parts of the Website.

We also use cookies that are retransmitted by an analytics or statistics provider to collect aggregated information on the number of users and how they visit the Website. These are also considered technical cookies when they operate as described.

Analytics may collect information through log data, such as:

- internet protocol (IP) address;
- type of browser and device;
- operating system;
- name of the Internet Service Provider (ISP);
- country information
- date and time of visit;
- web page of origin (referral) and exit;
- possibly the number of clicks.

We don't use this information to identify you and will not collect anything that will personally identify you, like your address, phone number, and other such information, but rather what is needed to understand usage trends on the Website.

We use session cookies to keep track of how you browse on your visits to the Website.

Temporary session cookies are deleted automatically at the end of the browsing session - these are mostly used to keep track of what you do from page to page, such as with online shopping, and keeping track of what is in your cart.

Persistent cookies, on the other hand, remain active longer than just one particular session. These help us recognize you. Not your personal identifying information. Only the Third-party cookies: We also utilize third-party cookies, which are cookies sent by a third-party to your computer. Persistent cookies are often third-party cookies. The majority of third-party cookies consist of tracking cookies used to identify online behavior, understand interests and then customize advertising for you.

We may use remarketing cookies, which place files on your browser or device to allow us to display advertisements to you on other websites. When these types of cookies are used, we will ask for your explicit consent.

Our full list of cookies

The full list of cookies we use on our Website is below:

Third-party cookies: cookies from third party affiliate links or ads. Details on third party cookies can be found on the third party's websites after clicking the links. The sites should have a cookie policy available for visitors.

Our cookies: Any cookies used by GoDaddy in conjunction with marketing and analytic additions to website hosting to help me improve your visiting experience and marketing efforts.

Consent

When you arrive to our Website, we will request your consent for cookies as follows:

With a Cookies Policy pop up on the front page. The pop up will direct visitors where the policy can be located. The Cookie Policy will also be located in a pdf link at the bottom of each page and on the Policies page of the website.

What can you do about cookies?

If you want, you can prevent the use of cookies, but then you may not be able to use our Website as we intend. To proceed without changing the options related to cookies, simply continue to use our Website.

For our Website, this is how you can adjust your settings and, if desired, opt-out of cookies completely: There should be an unsubscribe at the bottom of every newsletter and email. If you are unable to find the unsubscribe tool, you can manage cookies through the settings of your browser on your device. However, deleting cookies from your browser may remove the preferences you have set for the Website, as well as preferences you've set for other websites.
