

Lencia Marshall

Speaker • Author • Coach • Entrepreneur

Lencia is a popular author and founder of High Heels & Pearls, a company that focuses on healing events that empower the WHOLE woman! A dynamic speaker and lover of people, Lencia has an incredible testimony and gift for empowering people through it - sharing her insights on matters of the head, heart, and marketplace. From small cell events to large conferences, Lencia delivers a poignant message that nurtures the spirit and soul of a woman. Having overcome sexual assault and domestic violence, she prides herself on helping others heal, own and power-through their pain to live healthy and functional lives.

SPEAKING TOPICS:

Mastering the Journey

Life doesn't come with a handbook. When it doesn't go exactly according to plan, some start to just wander through life as if it is a black abyss of nothingness. Mastering Your Journey is about living life intentionally and in color! Lencia reveals key points that equip women with finding themselves again, unlocking their individual purpose and passion.

Moving Beyond Broken Pieces

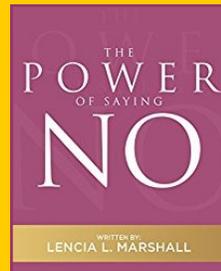

MBBP is about speaking life into victims until they become victors. As a sexual assault survivor, Lencia had to embrace her pain and figure out how to take control of her life. She shares her testimony and her steps taken to move beyond the broken pieces and step vibrantly into your own power. Full or half day session (co-facilitated with Mary Joyce Petty).

The Power of Empowering Your Sister

A few kind words, even from a stranger, can impact others in life-changing ways. Lencia shares a compilation of stories, among them how a random online connection altered the course of her life. This "virtual sister" spoke to her with so much conviction and life-force that she was empowered to seek her true life's purpose. An insightful message on the importance and power of sisterhood.

What people are saying about

"The Power of Saying NO":

"Five stars! Short, personal and encouraging enough to inspire someone else to believe and know that it's OK to say no without any guilt, shame or regrets."

- T. Payton

"Too short! I wish it was longer!! Saying no is not about being mean! It's about you making yourself your first priority!!"

- A. Porter

"Inspiring and an excellent read! I would highly recommend this book to be read by every woman that has a problem with saying no."

- H. Petty Sr.

For more detailed information on Lencia's presentation topics or to book her for your next keynote, seminar, event or workshop, please contact us at:

Phone: 866.312.3847

Email: info@ilm-international.org

On the web: www.ilm-international.org

Facebook | Instagram

