- At the 1938 Olympic Games the Swans finished the final year to be defeated 3-0 by Uruguay. The Swans had never dropped out such a prolonged stay in Paris and ran out of money but their country came to their rescue by a quick collection.
- The world's finest football, Luxembourg, has 6,000 players.

England was once moved from White Hart Lane to Hampden Park (Glasgow) when England beat Scotland. More recently, 18,000 saw Britain defeat East of Europe 4 goals to 1.

PREVIOUS AUSTRALIAN VISITS

It seems incredible with only 1200 miles of sea separating the two countries that the present visit of the Australians is only the fourth such tour by a team from across the Tasmans in 44 years! With the trend of sporting sides almost a foregone conclusion nowadays, it is to be hoped that the sympathies of the two countries will get together and see that constant touch is kept with each other from now on.

FIRST VISIT IN 1914

The first Australian side to visit New Zealand was a New South Wales team (the game has always been confined to this State) in 1904. The tourists played 2 games, winning 0 (including the First Test) losing 2 and drawing 2 (including the Second Test).

N.Z. UNDEFEATED

Eighteen years went by before another team crossed the Tasmans, when in 1922 an Australian representative side played fourteen games throughout the country, winning 6 losing 4 and drawing 4. The Test results against the cream of New Zealand saw New Zealand undefeated, winning the First at Dunedin 2-1, drawing the Second at Wellington 1-1, and winning the Third 3-1.

New Zealand repaid the visit in 1923 and played three Tests in the land of the Kangaroo. New Zealand was defeated in the First Test at Brisbane 2-1 but made amends by beating Australia at Newcastle 3-2 and 4-1 at Sydney.

AUSTRALIA ON TOP

In 1933, New Zealand again visited Australia but failed to win a Test. Results in Australia's favour were at Brisbane 4-2, at Sydney 5-4, and again at Sydney, 4-2. It was during this tour that the brilliant New Zealand goalkeeper, Bill Zull, sustained a severe injury which terminated his career. Australian Soccer enthusiasts still remember Zull as a goalkeeper of extraordinary ability and one of the greatest goalkeepers ever to grace an Australian Soccer field.

AUSTRALIA HOLDS "ASHES"

It was not until 1936 (just fourteen years after the last visit) that New Zealand again had the pleasure of welcoming an Australian side. In the interim, Australia had been busily engaged employing every method to improve their game, and, whereas the matches of 1922 had been fairly close, those of 1936 saw the visitors play and win the twelve contests, in most cases by considerable margins. In the First Test at Dunedin, New Zealand were beaten 1-1, and again lost at Wellington by 19-0. The Third Test at Auckland went to Australia, 4-1. Of the twelve Tests played to date, Australia has won 7, New Zealand 4, with 1 drawn. Australia has scored 43 goals to New Zealand's 25.

FAREWELL TO THE AUSTRALIANS

With the starting of the Fourth Test here today the Australians will conclude their tour of New Zealand—a tour which has been an outstandingly successful one.

The Australians are a talented side, possessing brilliant combinations and perfect ball control but, above all, every player is imbued with a fine sporting spirit. They have made friends wherever they have travelled.

Both the Springboks last year and the Australians this year have shown New Zealand players and spectators a brand of football not usually seen on our playing fields, and it now behoves the administrators of the game to see that the lessons imparted are taken to heart and the value of the tour turned to good advantage.

Right from the club to representative level it would appear that our coaching and training methods need some drastic overhauling if we are to improve our standard and hold our own with visiting teams. It is to be hoped that next season will see something being done.

And so we say "Kia Ora" to our visitors, the Australians, a grand band of sportsmen. May we have the pleasure soon of returning their visit or of having them back with us again in the near future.
