Welcome to English Team

The English Amateur Soccer Team is very welcome to Australia.

The representatives of the Motherland will find here a genuine love of England and of the English, and every section of the community will be eager to extend the hand of fellowship to the visitors.

The Soccer supporter is especially pleased that England has sent this team overseas. He recognises the stimulus that the visit of an International side gives to the game, and knows that there is no greater attraction than an English Team.

The results of the games will decide the frequency of future visits. Australians believe that the standard of football in this country, has improved greatly of recent years, and the victories in New Zealand last year are indicative of this.

The English Team has had a victorious tour of New Zealand, and made a host of friends in every centre. Of our friendship we assure them also and wish them the happiest memories of their tour of Australia.

HELPING THE GAME IN THE DOMINIONS

The Football Association will, it is believed, shortly hold a Conference in London to discuss the best method of fostering the game in the Dominions. Some suggest that the Football Association subsidise by direct grant each year the Dominions Associations. Others propose that representative teams from the British Isles be sent out regularly. Those who recognise that every effort should be made to see that the game is played in the schools would concentrate in that direction. Another section would advocate that coaches be sent out to the Dominions.

The late Mr. John Lewis, manager of the 1925 team, did not think it necessary to import professional coaches. "Teach the schoolboys the game, and you will be working on the right lines," he said.

The Australian Association has asked the Football Association to consider purchasing a ground in those capital cities in Australia where Soccer has not an enclosed area of its own.

The visit of an English team at regular intervals would be of great assistance. The English Association would have to financially back these tours until they became self-supporting. The 1925 Tour showed a small margin of profit, so there is every reason to believe that England would not have to foot a big bill. When will England invite an Australian team overseas? This would do more to assist the game than anything else. The contact with English players and English conditions would improve our players, and in a few years they would measure up to Old Country standards in the same way as Australian athletes have done in every other sport.

It is the fervant wish of all Australians that the Football Association will take a closer interest in the doings of the Dominions and the Football Association's adoption of some of the suggestions set out above would hearten those who have for years worked hard to advance the interests of the game in this country.

CO-OPERATION WITH NEW ZEALAND

The New Zealand Association has approached the English Association to send out a team for the Centenary Celebration in New Zealand in 1940.

It is desirable that the two countries—Australia and New Zealand should continue to work together in the friendliest way for the development of the game in the Southern Hemisphere, and it is hoped that Australia will be included in the itinerary under a similar arrangement to that made this year.

The New Zealand Association intends to invite an Australian team to tour there in 1938, and no doubt a team will be sent if confirmation of the arrangement made with Mr. S. A. Storey, the Australian Manager in New Zealand last year is received.

New South Wales expects to be in a position to invite teams from all States next year, this being a part of the programme in connection with the 150th Centenary Celebrations. Under these circumstances it might be better for Australia to send a team to Enzed in 1939, and this would have the advantage of allowing the Sister Dominion more time to secure the desired improvement in play following the lesson received from the Australian and English sides during the last two years.

KELLY'S HOTEL ORIENT for CASTLEMAINE XXXX

WREFORD BROWN, the senior manager of the team, is one of the world's best known sporting men. Has managed teams with great success for many years, and is an authority on the legislative side. Was a centre-half for Corinthians, and represented England from 1889 to 1898. He is accompanied by Mrs. Brown.

E. TUNNINGTON, Captain of the side is a brilliant centre-half who is also at home at wing-half where he received his international cap. Has had considerable experience with professional teams of Accrington Stanley and Chelsea. Captain of Lloyd's Bank. Is the comedian of the party and sings a good song.

BERNARD JOY is recognised as the finest amateur in England. Plays at centre-half for the Casuals and is a fairly regular member of the Arsenal professional team. Possesses some ten international caps and has made several trips to the Continent. Is so keen on the game that he turned out on his wedding day.

G. A. STRASSER is a speedy left back who plays for Casuals and Corinthians. Has represented Cambridge University and has taken part in English Cup tie twice for Corinthians. Covers well and drew favourable comment against the German Universities.

JIMMY LEWIS is a name to conjure with when the shifting of the play is required quickly. Walthamstow Avenue owes much of its success to his long and accurate passing. Has been capped four times at inside right, but is now one of the most formidable right halfbacks in the game. Has had experience with Queen's Park Rangers professionals.

E. C. COLLINS is another Walthamstow Avenue player who has shown out in international matches. Is the "speed merchant" of the team at outside right, and combines speed with clever and uncanny ball control. His hobby is greyhounds and he has a couple of champions.

DR. J. SUTCLIFFE is a quack medical man with an air of joyful innocence, which is a foil to an alert brain. Plays Casuals. Is an old Cambridge Blue and was a member of Olympic team. His half-back is studied and cool. He is Chief of St. Thomas' Hospital.

L. T. HUDDLE—Casuals Corinthians—is probably the tallest keeper we have seen. Stands 6ft. 3in. in his sock high or low shots have no fear for him. Can throw nearly as far as the average player kick, and gains practice at polo, keeping goal for Middlesex. Was a member of the Olympic team.

A. H. WOOLCOCK is Brighton University's goalkeeper and Captain. Has had experience with Brighton and Hove professionals. Has also a reputation with Corinthians in the FA Cup and played for the Football Association. His extraordinarily delicate hands belie his ability.

ROY MATTHEWS is a Walthamstow player who worries all the defences of the opposition with his clever and inventive play at centre-forward. The goal-keepers will have to watch their toes to deal with shots which come from the unexpected angles, while the ball, will be fatal.

F. A. DAVIS completes Walthamstow combinations at outside left, the underdog which he shows with his forwards will provide a goal attack. Is a prolific goal scorer and has a deadly low curl to the corner of the net. Has caught many professional keepers napping.

H. S. ROBBINS is one of the most versatile players in the game, and plays for Ipswich Hamlet at right back although he gained his Amateur Cup at outside left and left half. Has played with distinction in various positions on the field, and has won international honours.

ARTHUR STOLLERY is Trainer to the Dulwich Hamlet Club, and is the coach and trainer. He is well-known in London as a lecturer on physical training and is an ex-P.T. instructor of the Royal Air Force.

W. PICKERING, the "baby" of the team celebrates his 17th birthday during the tour. Is on the ground staff of Sheffield Wednesday and plays a sound, speedy game at full-back. Will probably sign professional papers on his return. Very quick on recovery, with a good kick.

LANCE CORPORAL S. EASTHAM is a member of the King's Own Royal Regiment, and plays for the Army and Kingstonsia Club. Was much sought after to sign professional forms prior to making the trip. His versatility anywhere on the right shows him up in unenviable ball control and clever combination. Is another international who has played this season.

LESTER C. FINCH, of Barnet Club, has eleven caps and is recognised as one of the most unorthodox players in England. It is this that gets him goals and although an inside left he is frequently to be found at the other side. Has personality and does not believe in Sunday football, refusing many contin-

Explanatory Rules

There will be many spectators who are new to the game and others who have forgotten the laws of the game. The off-side rule trips most and a study of the following will enable you to follow the game more easily.

OFFSIDE

When a player plays the ball, any player of the same side who at such moment of playing is nearer to his opponents' goal-line is out of play, and may not touch the ball himself, nor in any way whatever interfere with an opponent, or with the play, until the play has been again played, unless there are at such moment of playing at least two of his opponents nearer their own goal-line. A player is not out of play when the ball is kicked off from goal, when a corner-kick or a throw-in is taken, when the ball has been last played by an opponent, or when he himself is within his own half of the field of play at the moment the ball is played by any player of the same side.

It is not a breach of the law for a player to be in an off-side position but only when in that position he interferes with an opponent or with the play. If a player who is in an off-side position advances toward an opponent, or the ball, and in so doing causes the play to be affected, he should be penalised.

LAW 6.

Tripping, Kicking, Jumping at.—Neither tripping, kicking, striking nor jumping at a player shall be allowed.

"Hands"—A player (the goal-keeper, within his own penalty area excepted) shall not intentionally handle the ball.

Holding, Pushing.—A player shall not use his hands to hold or push an opponent.

Charging.—Charging is permissible, but it must not be violent or dangerous.

Charging Behind.—A player shall not be charged from behind unless he is intentionally obstructing an opponent.

Freekick from which Goal may be Scored.—A goal may be scored from a corner kick, and if a free kick is awarded because of any infringement of Law 6, a goal may be scored again the offending side direct from such free kick but not from any other free kick.

There are many minor alterations to the rules this season which tend to speed up the game, the most notable of which is that the goal kick must now be kicked direct from that area, and not tipped to the goal-keeper to punt the ball. It must also travel outside the penalty area or be re-taken.

English Personalities

T. THORNE, the co-manager of the party, is Chairman of the Southern League, and Chairman of the Millwall Football Club. He has been for 27 years a member of the London Football Association and is a member of the Council of the Football Association and an International Selector.

L. C. BURNTON, of Derbyshire Amateurs and Kingstons, is a dangerous inside left, who gained international honours against Scotland and Wales last year and has shown out prominently this season. Has a powerful shot with either foot. Has also assisted Corinthians in the English Cup.

W. PAER, of Blackpool professionals, has greatly assisted his club to gain promotion to the First Division this season. Is a brilliant outside right with an elusive and speedy run. Gained international honours last year and again this season.

T. H. LEEK plays for Moor Green at left half. Has gained his exp. with clever play and also is a hard man for a forward to pass. Is a University student at Birmingham and played a sound game against the German Universities. Was outstanding in the trial games.

F. KILBY is another clever left winger who has a habit of cutting-in and scoring from the centre or inside position. Plays for Casuals and has assisted Corinthians in the English Cup, as well as being a prominent member of the Olympic team last year.
