WAVE

The perfect addition

The Wellssystem Wave is the next era of fully immersive relaxation combined with dry water massage. Delivering in depth relaxation for the body, mind, and soul, the Wellssystem Wave Touch is the only holistic massage/relaxation system that addresses multiple types of stress. For more than 25 years Wellssystem has been an industry leader in dry water massage systems, setting the standard for quiet and dependable operations.

Your customers are experiencing higher levels of physical and mental stress than ever before, the Wellssystem dry water massage system is the answer for stress and pain relief combined. The airless system creates a quiet and consistent environment for warm water jets to massage from head to toe with high quality massage. Choose between upper body or total body based on desired results, and also choose desired massage pressure settings from gentle kneading to powerful deep tissue experience.

Release Tensions

The intensive massage works into the deeper layers of tissue, loosens tension and can assist with muscle pain relief.

Relaxed Fitness

To warm up or relax after training, the muscles are effectively loosened by the warm massage.

Switch-on To Switch-off

A 15-minute session reduces stress, increases well-being and quite simply is good for you.

Energize & Revive

The dry water massage improves blood circulation, stimulates the metabolism and delivers heightened energy levels.

Excellent Revenue Generator

- Minimum space requirement
- Contactless and hygienic
- Can be used at any time
- No direct staff costs
- Wide appeal to all target groups
- Target new user groups
- Enhanced customer loyalty
- Spa experience differentiation

Feel the Power of Relaxation Anywhere

The dry water massage by Wellssystem is ideal for multiple business models, and brings a unique and high level modality for immersive relaxation and massage. The Wellssystem can be fully sanitized between each session, with no changing, no laundry, and no hassle.

Highly profitable and low maintenance, the Wellssystem is the perfect addition to any automated spa circuit or service menu. Allowing you to bring additional value to your customers through this unique relaxation experience, without the expenditure of additional support staff. Low operational costs, low maintenance, and autonomous session control for users means an ideal combination for operators who seek high value and quality services that are accessible operationally.

Effective Massage for Strong Shoulders

The shoulder muscle (musculus trapezius) is an essential predictor of mental stress and, when hardened by a tense posture, causes pain and tension throughout the body. The uniquely designed massage surface of the Wellsystem, ergonomically surrounds the shoulder and neck area with its wave shape, allowing the massage jet to move around the entire shoulder muscles. This provides a comprehensive massage of the musculus trapezius. Innovative jets deliver an intense massage experience for an unrivaled and highly effective contactless shoulder massage.

The Wellsystem Wave Touch offers massage programs developed with multiple experts, which can be individually adjusted to body size, shoulder width, massage pattern and pressure.
