

Local and Regional news outlets in/around Kansas City

Tell your story: When a policy or decision impacts you, don't be afraid to tell your story. Reach out to local or regional news outlets. They want to hear from real people with real stories. Your story might seem small to you, but it might be part of a much larger story that needs to be told. Be authentic!

Fact checking: If you see/hear something from a public official that you know to be FALSE, say something. Help out by reporting the correct information to journalists (with source citations where possible) so they can report it out to the public.

Feel free to check websites for Staff Reporter listings too. Sometimes Reporters have specific areas that they cover (politics, business, local, etc.) so you can connect with the right person for your story.

The above are just a few of the media options in/around KC. If the print/radio/TV outlet you want isn't listed above, look up their News Desk contact info and reach out to them!

Important: DON'T limit yourself to "friendly" media. Correct information needs to reach everyone!!!!
