Dear Parents,

Thank you for your interest in the New York All Stars program—a venture that embodies the culmination of my lifelong passions and is, in every sense, a dream realized.

Founded in November of 2013 in Woodlawn, New York All Stars began its journey with a modest Saturday morning class while I pursued my graduate studies in Educational Theatre.

Over the past decade, New York All Stars has evolved, underpinned by a curriculum that is unique to this program. Beyond an array of enriching fitness and performing arts classes, we have proudly produced several musicals and student showcases across NYC and Westchester County. Our students have graced stages at iconic venues such as Radio City Music Hall, Citifield, the Barclay’s Center, and within the vibrant heart of Manhattan’s Theatre District. Our most committed performers have also represented us at prestigious events like the Junior Theatre Festival in Atlanta and the National Performing Arts Festival at Disney World.

The pandemic posed significant challenges for us, but with resilience, the unwavering support of our community partners, and the encouragement from parents like you, we are delighted to announce that New York All Stars is once again thriving. We now boast two operational locations, designed to offer greater convenience and accessibility.

We invite you to enroll your child at the location that best suits your family's needs. Your support empowers us to continue nurturing young talents and dreams, ensuring that the magic of performing arts remains an accessible reality for many.

Thank you once again for considering New York All Stars as a place for your child to grow, learn, and shine. We look forward to welcoming you and your aspiring star to our family.

Warmest regards,

Katy Cocovinis

About our performing arts program

"I regard the theatre as the greatest of all art forms, the most immediate way in which a human being can share with another the sense of what it is to be a human being."
Thornton Wilder

At New York All Stars, we believe that theatre promotes essential life skills and should be available and accessible to all kids. When your child registers with New York All Stars, they are guaranteed a role in the show. Actors will be considered for all roles regardless of gender, race, ethnicity, disability, or physical appearance. We aim to set them up for success by giving them the role in which they will have the best opportunity to shine in the performance. Students will audition for role placement during the first few weeks of classes. After registering, you will receive materials for them to prepare at home.
