Policy Statement

At Trident Alternative Provision, our mission is to build firm foundations for the future. We will: nurture the pupils in our care - addressing the social, emotional, and learning needs of individual pupils by providing the necessary help to remove the barriers to learning; build on their existing knowledge, skills, and state of personal development; release them into the world ready for their next stage of education and for adult life.

Aims

Our SEN policy aims to:

- Set out how our school will support and make provision for pupils with special educational needs (SEN)
- Explain the roles and responsibilities of everyone involved in providing for pupils with SEN

Legislation and guidance

This policy is based on the statutory Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) Code of Practice and the following legislation:

- Part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014, which sets out schools' responsibilities for pupils with SEN and disabilities
- The Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014, which set out schools' responsibilities for education, health and care (EHC) plans, SEN coordinators (SENCOs) and the SEN information report

Definitions

A student has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for them.

They have a learning difficulty or disability if they have:

- A significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of the others of the same age, or
- A disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools

Special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional to, or different from, that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools.

Roles and responsibilities

The SENCO

Our SENCO is Alec Dean & Lily Fox

She will:

- Have day-to-day responsibility for the operation of this SEN policy and the co-ordination of specific provision made to support individual pupils with SEN, including those who have EHC plans

- Develop termly IEP targets for each student who has an EHC plan in consultation with class teachers
- Ensure that all teachers have access to the information they need in order to be able to develop a person-centered approach in planning and delivering learning activities including organizing relevant training
- Provide professional guidance to colleagues and work with staff, parents, and other agencies to ensure that pupils with SEN receive appropriate support and high-quality teaching
- Co-ordinate the process of reviewing pupil progress termly in consultation with teachers and annually with all stakeholders during EHC plan reviews
- Liaise with the LA and Educational Psychologist for support and development with EHC Plans and EHC Plan reviews

- Ensure the school keeps the records of all pupils with SEN up to date
- Provide a termly report for the Head Teacher on SEND pupil progress.

The Headteacher

The headteacher will:

- Work with the SENCO and proprietor to determine the strategic development of the SEN policy and provision within the school
- Have overall responsibility for the provision and progress of learners with SEN and/or a disability

Class teachers

Each class teacher is responsible for:

- The progress and development of every student in their class
- Working closely with any teaching assistants or specialist staff to plan and assess the impact of support and interventions and how they can be linked to classroom teaching
- Working with the SENCO to review each student's progress and development and decide on any changes to provision
- Ensuring they follow this SEN policy

SEN information report

The kinds of SEN that are provided for

- Cognitive and Learning Need.
- Specific Learning Difficulties (SpLD)
- Moderate Learning Difficulties (MLD)
- Behavioural, Emotional and Social Development Needs
- Behavioural, Emotional and Social Difficulties (BESD)

In addition to these special educational needs, the majority of our pupils:

- have social, emotional, and mental health needs (SEMH)
- present challenging behaviour
- have had significant gaps in their education
- have had multiple exclusions from mainstream education
- have suffered various traumas

Consulting and involving pupils and parents

We will have a discussion with the student and their parents about their needs during the referral process. During these conversations will make sure that:

- Everyone develops a good understanding of the student's areas of strength and difficulty
- We take into account the parents' concerns
- Everyone understands the agreed outcomes sought for the child
- Everyone is clear on what the next steps are

Notes of these early discussions will be added to the student's record and given to their parents.

Parents will also be involved in annual EHC plan reviews

Assessing and reviewing pupils' progress towards outcomes

We will follow the graduated approach and the four-part cycle of assess, plan, do, review.

The class or subject teacher will work with the SENCO to carry out a clear analysis of the student's needs and compile a termly IEP. This will draw on:

- The teacher's assessment and experience of the student
- Their previous progress and attainment or behaviour
- Other teachers' assessments, where relevant
- The individual's development in comparison to their peers and national data
- The views and experience of parents
- The student's own views
- Advice from external support services, if relevant
- The pupils EHC plan

The assessment will be reviewed every term.

All teachers and support staff who work with the student will be made aware of their needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided, and any teaching strategies or approaches that are required.

We will regularly review the effectiveness of the support and interventions and their impact on the student's progress.

Supporting pupils moving between phases and preparing for adulthood

We will share information with the school, college, or other setting the student is moving to. We will agree with parents and pupils which information will be shared as part of this. We will:

- Organize visits (including virtual visits when it is not possible to do a physical visit) to the schools, colleges or other settings that pupils will be moving to
- Organise taster sessions for example in practical vocational subjects that interest pupils
- Organise work experience; work shadowing; Supported Internships, Traineeships to gradually prepare pupils for work
- Prepare pupils for adulthood through the following curriculum subjects – Career Guidance; Character Education; PSHE; Relationship & Sex Education; Living Independently
- Work closely with the local authority and accept any support they provide to prepare SEN pupils for progression and adulthood

Our approach to teaching pupils with SEN

Teachers are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of all the pupils in their class.

High-quality teaching is our first step in responding to pupils who have SEN. This will be differentiated for individual pupils.

We will ensure that all our staff complete specialized training to equip them to support pupils with SEND – enabling them to access the curriculum. Training will be determined by the needs of the pupils in each cohort and will include some of the following:

- Cognitive and Learning Needs
- Specific Learning Difficulties (SpLD)
- Moderate Learning Difficulties (MLD)
- Behavioural, Emotional and Social Development Needs
- Behavioural, Emotional and Social Difficulties (BESD)

We work closely with external organisations and professionals who deliver various interventions according to the requirements of their EHC plan and where it is determined by the SENCo that it is needed.

Professionals such as:

- Speech and Language Therapists
- Occupational Therapists
- Psychologists
- CAMHS

Due to the needs of our pupils, various teaching approaches will be used to promote engagement and learning. We will also provide interventions required for specific needs during lessons and 1 to 1 tutorial sessions. The SENCo will compile documents outlining recommended interventions for the specific needs present in each cohort and offer guidance for implementation by teachers. These will be embedded across the curriculum.

Adaptations to the curriculum and learning environment

We make the following adaptations to ensure all pupils' needs are met:

- Differentiating our curriculum to ensure all pupils are able to access it, for example, by grouping, 1:1 work, teaching style, content of the lesson, etc.
- Adapting our resources and staffing
- Using recommended aids, such as laptops, coloured overlays, visual timetables, larger font, etc.
- Differentiating our teaching, for example, giving longer processing times, pre-teaching of key vocabulary, reading instructions aloud, etc.
- Ensuring access arrangements are in place for all examinations and ensuring that pupils receive sufficient preparation for examinations by gradually exposing pupils to exam conditions
- Delivering learning outside the classroom when it is beneficial for the pupils

Additional support for learning

We will ensure that teaching assistants are trained to deliver interventions such as PECS, Precision Teaching. Teaching assistants will support pupils on a 1:1 basis when their specific needs make this necessary or when they are not progressing as expected.

Teaching assistants will support pupils in small groups when teachers find that they are struggling to grasp a specific topic.

Expertise and training of staff

Our SENCO is suitably qualified and experienced in this role.

They are allocated 3 days a week to manage SEN provision.

We have a team of teaching assistants, including higher level teaching assistants (HLTAs) who are trained to deliver SEN provision.

Staff receive training in the interventions relevant to the student cohort.

We will use specialist staff for interventions such as Speech and Language Therapy, Occupational Therapy when needed.

Evaluating the effectiveness of SEN provision

We evaluate the effectiveness of provision for pupils with SEN by:

- Reviewing pupils' individual progress towards their IEP targets each term
- Reviewing the impact of interventions after 6 weeks
- Using student questionnaires
- Monitoring by the SENCO
- Holding annual reviews for pupils with EHC plans

Monitoring arrangements

This policy and information report will be reviewed by the SENCo, the proprietor and the Headteacher every year. It will also be updated if any changes to the information are made during the year.
